Evaluation Process/Scoring - Players are scored in 5 general categories: hitting, fielding ground balls, fielding fly balls, throwing and athleticism/potential. Each category will be scored on a scale of 1-5 with 5 being the best possible points allowed. Players are then ranked based on total scores with a score of 25 being the highest possible. In hitting coaches are looking for form, bat speed, contact point and drive of the ball off the bat. Fielding ground balls will consist of each player fielding 5 ground balls from the shortstop position and completing the play by throwing to first base. Coaches are looking for form, approach to the ball, aggressiveness and accuracy, this gives the coach the opportunity to judge fielding the ball and half of the throwing category. Fielding pop flies will consist of each player fielding 5 fly balls in the outfield and completing the play by throwing to the designated cutoff man or base. As in fielding grounders coaches are looking for the same characteristics; form, angle of approach, aggressiveness and accuracy. This will allow the coach to judge the player's ability to read a ball and field it while also allowing coaches to see a player's arm strength from having to throw from further away.

Athleticism/potential is a coach's personal opinion of whether or not a player might have some tools to become a really good player but might not have developed them in their entirety. This is a hard category to judge because it is something that a coach will have to have a hunch about. Different coaches may look at the same player in two different ways. The score of this category can be eliminated if the coach doesn't feel comfortable with making these predictions.

Stars Who Made Baseball Whole Rick Swaine, 2014-09-24 For major league baseball the decade following Jackie Robinson's 1947 debut was one of slow yet persistent change. Four other black players made their first brief big league appearances that year followed by only two in 1948 and four in 1949. But by the end of 1959 122 black ballplayers had made it to the big leagues. Like Robinson their lives were made difficult off the field and on it they dodged beanballs and spikes. This book brings attention to the accomplishments of this transitional generation of African American players made up of men like Luscious Luke Easter Sam The Jet Jethroe and Sad Sam Jones many of whom spent years in the minors the Negro leagues or both before getting their shot. Chapters on each season from 1947 to 1959 incorporate biographical and career profiles for 25 players who stood out during baseball's integration. A final chapter covers the outstanding minor league players who for various reasons never got a real chance to play major league ball. Appendices include a roster of black major leaguers from 1947 through 1959 a list of black player firsts and statistics on the year by year population of black players in the majors.

Armenian-American/Canadian Who's who of Outstanding Athletes, Coaches, and Sports Personalities, 1906-1989 Richard N. Demirjian, 1989 The National Pastime: A Review of Baseball History Edited by John Thorn, 2014-12 Back in 1982 the Society for American Baseball Research was still young barely a decade past its founding and had grown to some 1600 members. One of their number a defrocked English Lit guy poking around in journalism suggested to the board of directors that SABR and the world might benefit from a publication along the lines of American Heritage only about baseball. Before long that member John Thorn found himself at the helm of the newly christened periodical The National Pastime: A Review of Baseball History. The very first issue included names we think of today as luminaries in the field of baseball history and analysis: Harold Seymour Lawrence S. Ritter Pete Palmer David Voigt Bob Broeg and more. Over the years the significance of that flagship issue has only grown while the inventory has dwindled. SABR is pleased to present a replica edition here with the addition of a new preface by John Thorn now the official historian of Major League Baseball. This issue includes Nate Colbert's Unknown RBI Record by Bob Carroll Nineteenth Century Baseball Deserves Equal Time by Art Ahrens Dandy at Third Base by Ray Dandridge by John B.
