S. Hodgson, 1993-05-28 Is the history of the modern world the history of Europe writ large Or is it possible to situate the history of modernity as a world historical process apart from its origins in Western Europe In this posthumous collection of essays Marshall G S Hodgson challenges adherents of both Eurocentrism and multiculturalism to rethink the place of Europe in world history He argues that the line that connects Ancient Greeks to the Renaissance to modern times is an optical illusion and that a global and Asia centred history can better locate the European experience in the shared histories of humanity Hodgson then shifts the historical focus and in a parallel move seeks to locate the history of Islamic civilisation in a world historical framework In so doing he concludes that there is but one history global history and that all partial or privileged accounts must necessarily be resituated in a world historical context The book also includes an introduction by the editor Edmund Burke contextualising Hodgson's work in world history and Islamic history

Teaching World History Thematically Rosalie Metro, 2020 This book offers the tools teachers need to get started with a more thoughtful and compelling approach to teaching history one that develops literacy and higher order thinking skills connects the past to students lives today and meets social studies 3C standards and most state standards grades 6 12 The author provides over 90 primary sources organized into seven thematic units each structured around an essential question from world history As students analyze carefully excerpted documents including speeches by queens and rebels ancient artifacts and social media posts they build an understanding of how diverse historical figures have approached key issues At the same time students learn to participate in civic debates and develop their own views on what it means to be a 21st century citizen of the world Each unit connects to current events with dynamic classroom activities that make history come alive In addition to the documents themselves this teaching manual provides strategies to assess student learning mini lectures designed to introduce documents activities and reproducibles to help students process display and integrate their learning guidance to help teachers create their own units guidelines for respectful student debate and discussion and more

Book Features A timely aid for secondary school teachers tasked with meeting standards and other state level quality requirements An approach that promotes student engagement and critical thinking to replace or augment a traditional textbook Challenges to the master narrative of world history from figures like Queen Nzinga and Huda Sha arawi as well as traditionally recognized historical figures such as Pericles and Napoleon Essential questions to help students explore seven of the most important recurring themes in world history Role plays and debates to promote interaction among students Printable copies of the documents included in the book can be downloaded at tcpress.com
