Universities, Sustainability and Society: Supporting the Implementation of the Sustainable Development

Goals Walter Leal Filho, Amanda Lange Salvia, Luciana Brandli, Ulisses M. Azeiteiro, Rudi Pretorius, 2021-05-03 In order to yield the expected benefits sustainability initiatives need to be undertaken by means of a close cooperation between universities on the one hand and societal partners on the others The principle of co creation and co execution of sustainability initiatives increases the value for all by mutual learning and the sharing of expertise and resources But pursuing sustainability initiatives with a community and societal involvement is not simple There is a perceived need for a better understanding of how universities can interact with society in order to support the implementation of the UN Sustainable Development Goals This book is an attempt to address this need by a novel approach which focuses on current potentials and challenges across a wide range of fields and expertise The book focuses on how the theory and practice of sustainable development interact and shows the need for a continuation of the dialogue among sustainability academics and practitioners so as to address the issues matters and problems at hand The spectrum of themes addressed on this book also entails how environmental values and ethics are applied and the relationship between social biological and cultural diversity It also includes a broad disciplinary approach to sustainability including education research and case studies and the links with human environment relations in a sustainable development context

Architecture, State Modernism and Cultural Nationalism in the Apartheid Capital Hilton Judin, 2021-04-08 This book is the first comprehensive investigation of the architecture of the apartheid state in the period of rapid economic growth and political repression from 1957 to 1966 when buildings took on an ideological role that was never remote from the increasingly dominant administrative legislative and policing mechanisms of the regime It considers how this process reflected the usurpation of a regional modernism and looks to contribute to wider discourses on international postwar modernism in architecture Buildings in Pretoria that came to embody ambitions of the apartheid state for industrialisation and progress serve as case studies These were widely acclaimed projects that embodied for apartheid officials the pursuit of modernisation but carried latent apprehensions of Afrikaners about their growing economic prospects and cultural estrangement in Africa It is a less known and marginal story due to the dearth of material and documents buried in archives and untranslated documents Many of the documents drawings and photographs in the book are unpublished and include classified material and photographs from the National Nuclear Research Centre negatives of 1960s from Pretoria News and documents and pamphlets from Afrikaner Broederbond archives State architecture became the most iconic public manifestation of an evolving expression of white cultural identity as a new generation of architects in Pretoria took up the challenge of finding form to their prospects and beliefs It was an opportunistic faith in Afrikaners who urgently needed to entrench their vulnerable and contested position on the African continent The shift from provincial town to apartheid capital was swift and relentless Little was left to stand in the way of the ambitions and aim of the state as people were uprooted and forcibly relocated structures torn down and block upon block of administration towers and slabs erected across Pretoria This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of architectural history as well as those with an interest in postcolonial studies political science and social anthropology

Design Commons Gerhard Bruyns, Stavros Kousoulas, 2022-05-17 This book directly links the notion of the commons with different design praxes and explores their social cultural and ecological ramifications It draws out material conditions in four areas of design interest social design commons and culture ecology and transdisciplinary design As a collection of positions the diversity of arguments advances the understanding of the commons as both concepts and modes of thinking and their material translation when contextualised in the domain of design questions In other words it moves abstract social science concepts towards concrete design debates This text appeals to students researchers and practitioners working on design in architecture architecture theory urbanism and ecology Yearbook of International Organizations 2014-2015 (Volume 4) Union Of International Associations, Union of International Associations, 2014-09-17 The Yearbook of International Organizations provides the most extensive coverage of non profit international organizations currently available Detailed profiles of international non governmental and intergovernmental organizations IGO collected and documented by the Union of International Associations can be found here In addition to the history aims and activities of international organizations with their events publications and contact details the volumes of the Yearbook include networks between associations biographies of key people involved and extensive statistical data Providing both an international organizations and research bibliography Volume 4 cites over 46 000 publications and information resources supplied by international organizations and provides nearly 18 000 research citations under 40 subject headings This volume also includes a research bibliography on international organizations and transnational associations A Transdisciplinary Study of Global Mobilities Eduardo Tasis Moratinos, Ti-han Chang, Alicia Moreno Giménez, 2024-12-31 Identities on the Move interrogates the categories given and adopted by people on the move through a transdisciplinary and global approach that includes social and political sciences and the arts It brings together experiences of displacement from a variety of cultural and national backgrounds including Brazilians Chinese Koreans South Italians Africans Muslims Arabophobe migrants Iranians Pakistanis Bosnians Latin Americans and Eastern Europeans It looks at their identity negotiating processes in different geographies across the globe namely Japan UK Palestine Italy Australia Europe and North America This multi geographical and multi disciplinary approach allows us to decentralise previous narratives of migration by reformulating them against coloniality and invisibility and presenting them within a richer and changing contemporary map of dynamic identities The global scale of the case studies included in this volume also allows for a wider exploration of thematic concepts within the transformation of displaced identities such as assimilation versus alienation memory and trauma stigmatisation enculturation acculturation and deculturation In a nutshell this volume highlights current complexities of identity formation in a global scene that is moving

God's Feet or the Mission's Pack Donkey Hans-Martin Milk,2022-12-15 The title of this book originates from the self description of Namibian Evangelists in their own words African evangelists of the Rhenish Mission Society RMS played a crucial but mostly overlooked role in shaping the spiritual and social networks that transformed indigenous communities from the early nineteenth century The author draws from a wide range of German Namibian and South African archival sources that have been supplemented with a large number of interviews to explore the history of the indigenous evangelists of the RMS African supporters were often the first heralds of the new religion at remote villages and cattle posts before the white strangers made an appearance The Namibian evangelists familiarity with the traditional culture and the local vernacular endowed them with a credibility that many of the European newcomers found difficult to acquire By interweaving mission and church history between 1820 and 1990 with a biographical approach the author brings a hidden chapter in Namibian history to life
