Ownership and Governance of Companies Jonathan Michie,Vishnu Padayachee,2021-06-29 Apartheid South Africa was often thought to run in the interests of the business elite Yet 27 years after apartheid those business interests remain largely entrenched Why Did the South African business community play a role in engineering this outcome perhaps recognising the apartheid era was over and jumping ship in time Conversely the mission of the ANC was widely perceived to be to shift wealth and power into the hands of the whole community Yet despite black empowerment measures corporate ownership remains largely in white hands and certainly in the hands of an elite few even though no longer restricted to whites This picture is replicated across the global south where corporate ownership tends to be concentrated in the hands of an elite rather than being more democratically spread Why have alternative corporate forms not been pursued more vigorously with ownership in the hands of customers employees and local communities In the case of South Africa where the majority of customers and employees are black this could have delivered on the ANC s mission to replace the apartheid era with a democratic one in terms of wealth incomes and power as well as in terms of voting and civic rights This edited volume explores all these questions and looks at ways to align corporate forms with economic and social goals The chapters in this book were originally published as special issues of International Review of Applied Economics

Global Space Governance: An International Study Ram S. Jakhu,Joseph N. Pelton,2017-09-12 This book is based on the findings conclusions and recommendations of the Global Space Governance study commissioned by the 2014 Montreal Declaration that called upon civil society academics governments the private sector and other stakeholders to undertake an international interdisciplinary study The study took three years to complete It examines the drivers of space regulations and standards key regulatory problems and especially addresses possible improvements in global space governance The world s leading experts led the drafting of chapters with input from academics and knowledgeable professionals in the public and private sectors intergovernmental organizations and nongovernmental organizations from all the regions of the world with over 80 total participants This book and areas identified for priority action are to be presented to the UN Committee on the Peaceful Uses of Outer Space and it is hoped will be considered directly or indirectly at the UNISPACE 50 event in Vienna Austria in 2018 The report a collective work of all the contributors includes objective analysis and frank statements expressed without pressure of political national and occupational concerns or interest It is peer reviewed and carefully edited to ensure its accuracy preciseness and readability It is expected that the study and derivative recommendations will form the basis for deliberations and decisions at international conferences and meetings around the world on the theme of global space governance This will hopefully include future discussion at the UN Committee on the Peaceful Uses of Outer Space
