Global Health Watch 3 ,2005      Global Health Watch ... ,2005      The Misuse, Misrepresentation, and Politicization of Statistics in American Society Robert E. Parker,2022-07-18 The Misuse Misrepresentation and Politicization of Statistics in American Society critically examines the early measurement efforts of several government agencies responsible for some of the most widely watched social indicators on unemployment life expectancy crime and population It argues that official statistics are dubious at best better seen not so much as objective barometers of social life but rather as socially constructed metrics that are easily manipulated and often politicized This book argues that official statistics powerfully frame social reality ultimately helping to determine who counts and what matters in society It makes the case that as with other types of official accounts data derived from government sources needs to be regarded skeptically and systematically investigated This book concludes that official statistics are a kind of sanctioned cover up of everyday reality hiding the true extent of joblessness distorting the real increase in life expectancy obscuring where crime actually happens and understating the undeniable growth of minority populations      Global Health Watch 5 Bloomsbury Publishing,2017-12-15 For over a decade Global Health Watch has been the definitive source for alternative analysis on health This new edition addresses the key challenges facing governments and health practitioners today within the context of rapid shifts in global governance mechanisms and the UN s Sustainable Development Goals Like its predecessors it challenges conventional wisdom while pioneering innovative new approaches to the field Collaboratively written by academics and activists drawn from a variety of movements research institutions and civil society groups it covers some of the most pressing issues in world health from the resurgence of epidemic diseases such as Ebola to the crisis in the WHO climate change and the war on drugs Combining rigorous analysis with practical policy suggestions Global Health Watch 5 offers an accessible and compelling case for a radical new approach to health and healthcare across the world      Global Health Watch 5 Global Health Watch,2017-12-15 For over a decade Global Health Watch has been the definitive source for alternative analysis on health This new edition addresses the key challenges facing governments and health practitioners today within the context of rapid shifts in global governance mechanisms and the UN s Sustainable Development Goals Like its predecessors it challenges conventional wisdom while pioneering innovative new approaches to the field Collaboratively written by academics and activists drawn from a variety of movements research institutions and civil society groups it covers some of the most pressing issues in world health from the resurgence of epidemic diseases such as Ebola to the crisis in the WHO climate change and the war on drugs Combining rigorous analysis with practical policy suggestions Global Health Watch 5 offers an accessible and compelling case for a radical new approach to health and healthcare across the world      Global Health Watch 6 Bloomsbury Publishing,2022-04-21 Global Health Watch GHW now in its sixth edition provides the definitive voice for an alternative discourse on health It integrates rigorous analysis alternative proposals and stories of struggles and change to present a compelling case for the imperative to work for a radical transformation of the way we approach actions and policies on health. It was conceived in 2003 as a collaborative effort by activists and academics from across the world and is designed to question present policies on health and to propose alternatives. Global Health Watch 6 (GHW6) has been coordinated by eight civil society organizations: the People's Health Movement, ALAMES, Health Poverty Action, Medico International, Third World Network, Medact, Sama, and Viva Salud. With contributions from across the globe, GHW6 addresses key issues related to health systems and the range of social, economic, political, and environmental determinants of health, locating decisions and choices that impact on health in the structure of global power relations and economic governance.

The World Health Report World Health Organization, 2007 An Overview for Global Health Watch 2 Marion Birch, Alison Whyte, People's Health Movement, Medact, Global Equity Gauge Alliance, 2008. The Watch is a broad collaboration of public health experts, non-governmental organizations, civil society activists, community groups, health workers, and academics. It was initiated by the People's Health Movement, Global Equity Gauge Alliance, and Medact. This alternative world health report is an evidence-based assessment of the political economy of health and health care and is aimed at challenging the major institutions that influence health.

Report of the Italian Global Health Watch Osservatorio Italiano sulla Salute Globale, In the Shadow of the Pandemic, 2022 2020 report. Caught in the COVID-19 storm World Health Organization, 2023-03-10. The 2020 report by the Independent Panel for Every Woman, Every Child, Every Adolescent examines the impact of COVID-19 on women's, children's, and adolescents' health within the framework of Universal Health Coverage (UHC) and the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). The report highlights the severe setbacks caused by the pandemic in achieving the 2030 targets for health improvements, detailing how resource diversion and legislative changes have exacerbated existing inequities. It provides an analysis of country scorecards to evaluate health outcomes relative to spending and outlines the challenges faced by fragile and conflict-affected regions. The report emphasizes the need for strategic use of data, political leadership, and equitable health service distribution to address the health disparities intensified by the pandemic. It is intended for policymakers, health organizations, and stakeholders involved in global health advocacy and development.

World report on the health of refugees and migrants World Health Organization, 2022-07-20 Tracking universal health coverage The World Bank, World Health Organization, 2023-11-14. The world is off track to make significant progress towards universal health coverage (UHC) SDG target 3.8 by 2030, as improvements to health services coverage have stagnated since 2015 and the proportion of the population that faced catastrophic levels of out of pocket OOP health spending has increased      Global spending on health: coping with the pandemic World Health Organization,2024-01-30 The report shows that global spending on health continued to increase in 2021 the second year of the pandemic to US 9 8 trillion 10 3% of global GDP The increase in spending was driven by higher government spending and out of pocket spending In low income countries external aid for health played an important role in supporting government spending Sustaining government spending and external aid at 2021 levels could however prove challenging given the deterioration in global economic conditions rising inflation and increased debt servicing obligations The report also capitalizes on disaggregated spending information to provide new insights into the dynamics of increased global spending on health through the pandemic Using data disaggregated by health service providers it shows some of the ways that health service delivery systems coped with the COVID 19 pandemic Hospitals ambulatory care providers and pharmacies accounted for most health spending Shifts were observed however in the composition of services within provider types reflecting the new and evolving demands through the pandemic Disaggregated spending data by disease and condition also shows a delicate balance between spending on COVID 19 and other diseases was maintained The report also examines countries health capital investment which shape current operational capacity and are essential for forging a path toward effective and resilient health systems      Sixth Report on the World Health Situation (Parts 1 & 2). ,1980      Report of the fourth WHO global infodemic management conference World Health Organization,2023-12-18 The call to action issued after the 3rd WHO infodemic management conference in 2020 galvanized a range of actors across the world who were and remain willing to invest time resources and creativity in the nascent but crucial field of infodemic management This has resulted in extraordinary diversification of research tools and techniques Infodemic management is now more and more widely seen by governments and health authorities as a necessary public health intervention as important in responding to outbreaks as vaccines or therapeutics      World health statistics 2022 World Health Organization,2022-05-24 The World Health Statistics 2022 report by the World Health Organization WHO provides a comprehensive analysis of global health data focusing on the Sustainable Development Goals SDGs and WHO s Triple Billion targets This edition includes more than 50 indicators with a significant emphasis on the impact of the COVID 19 pandemic on health systems worldwide It presents data on COVID 19 cases deaths excess mortality and disruptions to essential health services The report also assesses global trends in life expectancy health risk factors and universal health coverage highlighting disparities in health service access and financial protection Intended for policymakers health professionals and researchers the report aims to inform strategies for improving health systems and achieving global health targets
