Sounds Like Helicopters Matthew Lau, 2019-10-01 Explores how modernist films use classical music in ways that restore the music's original subversive energy Classical music masterworks have long played a key supporting role in the movies silent films were often accompanied by a pianist or even a full orchestra playing classical or theatrical repertory music yet the complexity of this role has thus far been underappreciated Sounds Like Helicopters corrects this oversight through close interpretations of classical music works in key modernist films by Francis Ford Coppola Werner Herzog Luis Buñuel Stanley Kubrick Jean Luc Godard Michael Haneke and Terrence Malick Beginning with the famous example of Wagner's Ride of the Valkyries in Apocalypse Now Matthew Lau demonstrates that there is a significant continuity between classical music and modernist cinema that belies their seemingly ironic juxtaposition Though often regarded as a stuffy conservative art form classical music has a venerable avant garde tradition and key films by important directors show that modernist cinema restores the original subversive energy of these classical masterworks These films Lau argues remind us of what this music sounded like when it was still new and difficult they remind us that great music remains new music The pattern of reliance on classical music by modernist directors suggests it is not enough to watch modernist cinema one must listen to its music to sense its prehistory its history and its obscure prophetic future To learn how classical music and modernist cinema were destined to be lovers long before Adorno learned to talk read Matthew Lau's inventive book which shows us how to see music and how to hear cinema After taking a spin with Isabelle Huppert Franz Schubert will never be the same again thanks to the meticulous Lau who shows us how some of classical music's not yet kindled radicalism required modernist cinema's perversely revivifying touch What's more Lau manages to offer in his conclusion a subtle stirring plea for a society a politics that makes room for difficult cinema and complex music For such a society's emergence Lau's book may be the instruction manual teaching salvific insurrectional self-ge
