Translanguaging and Epistemological Decentring in Higher Education and Research Heidi Bojsen, Petra Daryai-Hansen, Anne Holmen, Karen Risager, 2023-01-13 Using data from multilingual settings in universities and adjacent learning contexts in East Asia North Africa Central and North America and Europe this book provides examples of the heuristic value of translanguaging and epistemological decentring Despite this and other theoretical and empirical work and ever stronger calls for the inclusion of other languages epistemologies and constructions of culture in higher education decentring and translanguaging practices are often relegated to the margins or suppressed in research and education because of the organisational structures of education institutions and prevailing language norms policies and ideologies The authors draw on research on pluri and multilingualism within education studies as well as post and decolonial theoretical contributions to the research on the role of language in education and knowledge production to provide evidence that decentring cannot happen until learners have been given the tools to identify which sorts of centring dynamics and conditions are salient to their learning and trans languaging thorough literature reviews Exemplars of Truth Keith Lehrer,2019-01-02 The monograph explains how knowledge requires the capacity to justify or defend the target claim of knowledge Defensibility is based on a background system Lehrer argues that reflection on experience yields a self referential exemplar representation This is the novel contribution of his new book to truth about the perceptual world Emergent phonology Diana Archangeli ,Douglas Pulleyblank ,2022 To what extent do complex phonological patterns require the postulation of universal mechanisms specific to language In this volume we explore the Emergent Hypothesis that the innate language specific faculty driving the shape of adult grammars is minimal with grammar development relying instead on cognitive capacities of a general nature Generalisations about sounds and about the way sounds are organised into meaningful units are constructed in a bottom up fashion As such phonology is emergent We present arguments for considering the Emergent Hypothesis both conceptually and by working through an extended example in order to demonstrate how an adult grammar might emerge from the input encountered by a learner Developing a concrete data driven approach we argue that the conventional abstract notion of unique underlying representations is unmotivated such underlying representations would require some innate principle to ensure their postulation by a learner We review the history of the concept and show that such postulated forms result in undesirable phonological consequences We work through several case studies to illustrate how various types of phonological patterns might be accounted for in the proposed framework The case studies illustrate patterns of allophony of productive and unproductive patterns of alternation and cases where the surface manifestation of a feature does not seem to correspond to its morphological source We consider cases where a phonetic distinction that is binary seems to manifest itself in a way that is morphologically ternary and we consider cases where underlying representations of considerable abstractness have been posited in previous frameworks We also consider cases of opacity where observed phonological properties do not neatly map onto the phonological generalisations governing patterns of alternation Postcolonial Past & Present Anne Collett,Leigh Dale,2018-11-26 In Postcolonial Past Present twelve outstanding scholars of literature history and visual arts look to those spaces Epeli Hau ofa has insisted are full not empty asking what it might mean to Indigenise culture A new cultural politics demands new forms of making and interpretation that rethink and reroute existing cultural categories and geographies These makers include Mukunda Das Janet Frame Xavier Herbert Tomson Highway Claude McKay Marie Munkara Elsje van Keppel Albert Wendt Jane Whiteley and Alexis Wright Case studies from Canada to the Caribbean India to the Pacific and Africa analyse the productive ways that artists and intellectuals have made sense of turbulent local and global forces Contributors Bill Ashcroft Debnarayan Bandyopadhyay Anne Brewster Diana Brydon Meeta Chatterjee Padmanabhan Anne Collett Dorothy Jones Kay Lawrence Russell McDougall Tekura Moeka a Tony Sim es da Silva Teresia Teaiwa Albert Wendt Lydia Wevers Diana Wood Conroy The European Green Deal in Education Sarah Anne McDonagh,Alessandro Caforio,Alessandro Pollini,2024-11-28 This book shares real life case studies taken from GreenSCENT a three year EU funded project that promotes sustainability through the development of digital platforms and tools green education programme and climate and environmental literacy certification To date there has been little work published on the application of the European Green Deal in educational programmes and while environmental education is very dynamic at present this area has received scant attention Seeking to remedy this critical omission this book represents the first application of the Green Deal topics in the classroom It examines environmental education from an academic perspective looking specifically at the development of digital tools used to promote sustainability and provides recommendations for their practical application The authors also discuss ways to engage larger and more diverse audiences children young people and adults across socio economic cultural and ethnic backgrounds on the topic of sustainability through activities such as air quality monitoring Climathons and Youth Assemblies As the highlighting factors are inclusivity accessible design and responsible research and innovation this volume will be of great interest to students and scholars of European environmental policy and environmental education

Text + Field Sara L. McKinnon, Robert Asen, Karma R. Chávez, Robert Glenn Howard, 2016-06-01 Rhetorical critics have long had a troubled relationship with method viewing it as at times opening up provocative avenues of inquiry and at other times as closing off paths toward meaningful engagement with texts Text Field shifts scholarly attention from this conflicted history looking instead to the growing number of scholars who are supplementing text based scholarship by venturing out into the field where rhetoric is produced enacted and consumed

These field based practices involve observation ethnographic interviews and performance They are not intended to displace text based approaches rather they expand the idea of method by helping rhetorical scholars arrive at new and complementary answers to long standing disciplinary questions about text context audience judgment and ethics The first volume in rhetoric and communication to directly address the relevance processes and implications of using field methods to augment traditional scholarship Text Field provides a framework for adapting these new tools to traditional rhetorical inquiry Aside from the editors the contributors are Roberta Chevrette Kathleen M de On s Danielle Endres Joshua P Ewalt Alina Haliliuc Aaron Hess Jamie Landau Michael Middleton Tiara R Na puti Jessy J Ohl Phaedra C Pezzullo Damien Smith Pfister Samantha Senda Cook Lisa Silvestri and Valerie Thatcher
