Miley,S. Krupakar Murali,2013-12-12 This book provides readers with an introductory understanding of Inertial Electrostatic Confinement IEC a type of fusion meant to retain plasma using an electrostatic field IEC provides a unique approach for plasma confinement as it offers a number of spin off applications such as a small neutron source for Neutron Activity Analysis NAA that all work towards creating fusion power The IEC has been identified in recent times as an ideal fusion power unit because of its ability to burn aneutronic fuels like p B11 as a result of its non Maxwellian plasma dominated by beam like ions This type of fusion also takes place in a simple mechanical structure small in size which also contributes to its viability as a source of power This book posits that the ability to study the physics of IEC in very small volume plasmas makes it possible to rapidly investigate a design to create a power producing device on a much larger scale Along with this hypothesis the book also includes a conceptual experiment proposed for demonstrating breakeven conditions for using p B11 in a hydrogen plasma simulation This book also Offers an in depth look from introductory basics to experimental simulation of Inertial Electrostatic Confinement an emerging method for generating fusion power Discusses how the Inertial Electrostatic Confinement method can be applied to other applications besides fusion through theoretical experiments in the text Details the study of the physics of Inertial Electrostatic Confinement in small volume plasmas and suggests that their rapid reproduction could lead to the creation of a large scale power producing device Perfect for researchers and students working with nuclear fusion Inertial Electrostatic Confinement IEC Fusion Fundamentals and Applications also offers the current experimental status of IEC research details supporting theories in the field and introduces other potential applications that stem from IEC Bering Sea Chinook Salmon Bycatch Management, Regulatory Impact Review/initial Regulatory Flexibility Analysis ,2009 Transactions on Computational Science XII ,2011-07-27 The 12th issue of the Transactions on Computational Science journal edited by Alexei Sourin and Olga Sourina is devoted to the topic of cyberworlds The 13 papers in the volume constitute revised and extended versions of a selection of contributions presented at CW 2010 the 20th International Conference on Cyberworlds held in Singapore in October 2010 The selected papers span the areas of tangible interfaces emotion recognition haptic modeling decision making under uncertainty reliability measures use of biometrics for avatar recognition cybernavigation multiuser virtual environments spatial data sampling web visualization and interactive character animation system design
