Adapting to Online and Blended Learning in Higher Education David Kember, Robert A. Ellis, Si Fan, Allison Trimble, 2023-05-19 Higher education has undergone a massive transformation in teaching and learning in a very short period of time since the onset of Covid 19 Students teachers and universities have had to adopt online and blended learning often with little or no experience or models of good practice to draw upon It is clear that blended and online learning are here to stay This book draws on research from universities that have adopted online and blended learning to facilitate the expansion and diversification of their intake which resulted in considerable experience and expertise in online and blended teaching The book describes a model tested with qualitative and quantitative data which shows how teachers can support the retention and success of online and blended learners with four high quality pedagogical elements bite sized videos of interest and relevance learning materials that are well organised and provide a clear learning roadmap discussion forums which are set up and moderated so as to result in lively student student and student teacher interaction and online teachers being approachable and responsive to communication with individual students through email phone and online communication platforms This model is explained and profusely illustrated with examples from the teaching of award winning teachers This book introduces the concept of a spectrum from traditional to contemporary models of admission and course delivery in higher education It explains how universities which have adopted a contemporary model with high levels of blended and online learning have been able to expand their intake and markedly diversify the student body It discusses how to support the retention and success of online and blended learners Student support services are examined from the perspectives of service providers and online and blended learners and the case is made for support services being aligned with student needs The book has a discussion of university management systems which utilise feedback at all levels to improve alignment between support service provision and student needs A Dingo Ate My Math Book Burkard Polster,Marty Ross,2017-12-27 A Dingo Ate My Math Book presents ingenious unusual and beautiful nuggets of mathematics with a distinctly Australian flavor It focuses for example on Australians love of sports and gambling and on Melbourne s iconic mathematically inspired architecture Written in a playful and humorous style the book offers mathematical entertainment as well as a glimpse of Australian culture for the mathematically curious of all ages This collection of engaging stories was extracted from the Maths Masters column that ran from 2007 to 2014 in Australia s Age newspaper The maths masters in question are Burkard Polster and Marty Ross two immigrant Aussie mathematicians who each week would write about math in the news providing a new look at old favorites mathematical history quirks of school mathematics whatever took their fancy All articles were written for a very general audience with the intention of being as inviting as possible and assuming a minimum of mathematical background National Testing in Schools Bob Lingard,Greg Thompson,Sam Sellar,2015-11-06 Over the last two decades large scale national or provincial standardised testing has become prominent in the schools of many countries around the globe National Testing in Schools An Australian Assessment draws on research to consider the nature of national testing and its multiple effects including media responses and constructions such as league tables of performance pressures within school systems and on schools effects on the work and identities of principals and teachers and impacts on the experience of schooling for many young people including those least advantaged Using Australia as the case site for global concerns regarding national testing this book will be an invaluable companion for education researchers teacher educators teacher education students and teachers globally The Science of Learning and Development in Education Minkang Kim,Derek Sankey,2022-05-26 All teachers need to know how children and adolescents learn and develop Traditionally this knowledge had been informed by a mix of speculative and scientific theory However in the past three decades there has been substantial growth in new scientific knowledge about how we learn The Science of Learning and Development in Education provides an exciting and comprehensive introduction to this field This innovative text introduces readers to brain science and the science of complex systems as it applies to human development Section 1 examines the science of learning and development in the 21st century Section 2 explores the emotional cultural moral and empathetic brain and Section 3 focuses on learning wellbeing and the ecology of learning environments Written in an engaging style by leading experts and generously illustrated with colour photographs and diagrams The Science of Learning and Development in Education is an essential resource for pre service teachers Improving Reading and Reading Engagement in the 21st Century Clarence Ng,Brendan Bartlett,2017-05-31 This book presents cutting edge research findings in areas critical to advancing reading research in the 21st century context including new literacies reading motivation strategy instruction and reading intervention studies While students reading performance is currently receiving unprecedented attention there is a lack of research that adopts an international perspective and draws on research expertise from different parts of the world to present a concerted effort discussing key research models and findings on how to improve reading education Addressing this gap in the literature the book also responds to the challenge of promoting higher levels of literacy and supporting and developing readers who can enjoy and critique texts of every genre Teaching Secondary Mathematics Gregory Hine, Judy Anderson, Robyn Reaburn, Michael Cavanagh, Linda Galligan, Bing H. Ngu, Bruce White, 2021-09-24 Secondary mathematics teachers working in the Australian education sector are required to plan lessons that engage with students of different genders cultures and levels of literacy and numeracy Teaching Secondary Mathematics engages directly with the Australian Curriculum Mathematics and the Australian Professional Standards for Teachers to help preservice teachers develop lesson plans that resonate with students This edition has been thoroughly revised and features a new chapter on supporting Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander students by incorporating Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander cultures and ways of knowing into lessons Chapter content is supported by new features including short answer questions opportunities for reflection and in class activities Further resources additional activities and audio and visual recordings of mathematical problems are also available for students on the book's companion website Teaching Secondary Mathematics is the essential guide for preservice mathematics teachers who want to understand the complex and ever changing Australian education landscape Hooking Students into Learning Patricia Hipwell, 2018-07-20 Best selling author of the How to write what you want to say series Patricia Hipwell has completed her magnum opus which will benefit all teachers from Year 4 Year 12 This book has been written to provide teachers with ways of hooking students into learning at the start of each and every lesson It contains almost 300 ways of doing this The book is designed to be used by teachers in all curriculum areas from Year 4 upwards It contains a plethora of ideas that can be adapted to any curriculum area In the book the term relevant or subject specific content is used a great deal This is because skills are always best developed in the context of use with content that is relevant to current areas of study There is little point for example in asking students to do an activity that develops their sentence writing skills using information on Ancient Greece when they are currently studying the Black Death The symbiotic relationship between content and skills means that teachers often have to develop their own resources because this enables them to focus on the skills using relevant and current content Various referred to as anticipatory sets warm ups lesson starters or hooks the activities in this book are excellent ways to switch students on to their learning In this book the activities will be referred to as lesson starters Their purposes include moving key facts and figures from short term to long term memory activating prior knowledge about a topic where prior knowledge exists awakening interest in the topic of the lesson checking for understanding improving a variety of skills developing learning strategies improving vocabulary developing collaborative learning strategies Most of these activities are designed to take between five and ten minutes at the start of the lesson Students may take longer until they become familiar with them especially if the activities are different from current learning activities Many of the activities will work best if students work in pairs or small groups Some activities can generate noise and therefore be unsettling so teachers will need to be mindful of this when choosing a particular activity They may prefer to do the activity at the end rather than the start of a lesson In this case the purpose of the activity is to consolidate the learning of the lesson The focus of many of the activities is to increase the amount of reading and writing we require students to do Also students need to develop their vocabulary in all areas of the curriculum and many of the activities have been developed with this in mind

Designing Assessment for Quality Learning Claire Wyatt-Smith, Valentina Klenowski, Peta Colbert, 2014-03-10 This book brings together internationally recognised scholars with an interest in how to use the power of assessment to improve student learning and to engage with accountability priorities at both national and global levels It includes distinguished writers who have worked together for some two decades to shift the assessment paradigm from a dominant focus on assessment as measurement towards assessment as central to efforts to improve learning These writers have worked with the teaching profession and in so doing have researched and generated key insights into different ways of understanding assessment and its relationship to learning The volume contributes to the theorising of assessment in contexts characterised by heightened accountability requirements and constant change The book's structure and content reflect already significant and growing international interest in assessment as contextualised practice as well as theories of learning and teaching that underpin and drive particular assessment approaches Learning theories and practices assessment literacies teachers responsibilities in assessment the role of leadership and assessment futures are the organisers within the book's structure and content The contributors to this book have in common the view that quality assessment and quality learning and teaching are integrally related Another shared view is that the alignment of assessment with curriculum teaching and learning is linchpin to efforts to improve both learning opportunities and outcomes for all Essentially the book presents new perspectives on the enabling power of assessment In so doing the writers recognise that validity and reliability the traditional canons of assessment remain foundational and therefore necessary However they are not of themselves sufficient for quality education The book argues that assessment needs to be radically reconsidered in the context of unprecedented societal change Increasingly communities are segregating more by wealth with clear signs of social political economic and environmental instability These changes raise important issues relating to ethics and equity taken to be core dimensions in enabling the power of assessment to contribute to quality learning for all This book offers readers new knowledge about how assessment can be used to re engage learners across all phases of education

Primary Mathematics Penelope Baker, Rosemary Callingham, Tracey Muir, 2023-09-07 Primary Mathematics Integrating Theory with Practice is a comprehensive introduction to teaching mathematics in Australian
