Resources in Education ,1998 Theatre, Performance and Change Stephani Etheridge Woodson,Tamara Underiner,2017-12-01 This book works to make change strange from and for the field of theatre and performance studies Growing from the idea that change is an under interrogated category that over determines theatre and performance as an artistic social educational and material practice the scholars and practitioners gathered here including specialists in theatre history and literature educational theatre youth arts arts policy socially invested theatre and activist performance take up the question of change in thirty five short essays For anyone who has wondered about the relationships between theatre performance and change itself this book is an essential conversation starter Resources in Education ,1993 Who's who in American Education ,1989 Ethnic Community Views of the Austin Independent School District Richard L. Schott,Policy Research Project on Ethnic and Race Relations in Austin, Texas,2001 This study examined ethnic community perceptions of the Austin Independent School District AISD It investigated citizens assessments of the quality of public education ethnic tensions in the schools and the equality of resource distribution among the schools It also examined variations in perceptions of the AISD by ethnic group Data collection involved surveys and community interviews with white Hispanic American African American Asian American and other community members Results indicated that public opinion about the AISD was mixed One significant negative perception which had greater consensus than any other topic explored was that minority schools did not receive equal resources or treatment Most citizens rated educational quality as poor or fair Respondents with children attending AISD schools rated the quality of education higher than did people who did not have children in AISD schools Children from lower socioeconomic status and minority group families were more likely to attend schools in AISD than children from higher socioeconomic status and white families There was widespread perception that racial tensions existed among various ethnic groups in Austin schools African Americans were the most alienated from AISD and the most critical of educational quality and distribution of resources An appendix lists policy research project interviewees SM Exceptional Child Education Resources ,1989 Managing School Districts for High Performance Stacey Childress,2007 Managing School Districts for High Performance brings together more than twenty case studies and other readings that offer a powerful and transformative approach to advancing and sustaining the work of school improvement At the center of this work is the concept of organizational coherence aligning organizational design human capital management resource allocation and accountability and performance improvement systems to support an overarching strategy This central idea provides a valuable conceptual framework for current and future school leaders The case studies presented in Managing School Districts for High Performance grow out of the Public Education Leadership Project PELP a unique partnership between the Harvard Business School the Harvard Graduate School of Education and a network of urban school districts This rich array of cases explores the managerial challenges districts face as they seek to
