Artificial Intelligence for Customer Relationship Management Boris Galitsky, 2020-12-23. The second volume of this research monograph describes a number of applications of Artificial Intelligence in the field of Customer Relationship Management with the focus of solving customer problems. We design a system that tries to understand the customer complaint, his mood and what can be done to resolve an issue with the product or service. To solve a customer problem efficiently, we maintain a dialogue with the customer so that the problem can be clarified and multiple ways to fix it can be sought. We introduce dialogue management based on discourse analysis, a systematic linguistic way to handle the thought process of the author of the content to be delivered. We analyze user sentiments and personal traits to tailor dialogue management to individual customers. We also design a number of dialogue scenarios for CRM with replies following certain patterns and propose virtual and social dialogues for various modalities of communication with a customer. After we learn to detect fake content, deception and hypocrisy, we examine the domain of customer complaints. We simulate mental states, attitudes and emotions of a complainant and try to predict his behavior. Having suggested graph-based formal representations of complaint scenarios, we machine learn them to identify the best action the customer support organization can choose to retain the complainant as a customer.

The Future of Fallout, and Other Episodes in Radioactive World-Making Joseph Masco, 2020-12-18. In The Future of Fallout and Other Episodes in Radioactive World-Making, Joseph Masco examines the strange American intimacy with and commitment to existential danger. Tracking the simultaneous production of nuclear emergency and climate disruption since 1945, he focuses on the psychosocial accommodations as well as the technological revolutions that have produced these linked planetary-scale disasters. Masco assesses the memory practices, visual culture, concepts of danger and toxic practices that in combination have generated a U.S. national security culture that promises ever more safety and comfort in everyday life but does so only by generating and deferring a vast range of violences into the collective future. Interrogating how this existential lag, i.e. the material and conceptual fallout of the twentieth century in the form of nuclear weapons and petrochemical capitalism, informs life in the twenty-first century, Masco identifies key moments when other futures were still possible and seeks to activate an alternative postnational security.
