Assessing Writing, Teaching Writers Mary Ann Smith, Sherry Swain, 2016-12-23 Many writing teachers are searching for a better way to turn student writing into teaching and learning opportunities without being crushed under the weight of student papers. This book introduces a rubric designed by the National Writing Project the Analytic Writing Continuum AWC that is making its way into classrooms across the country at all grade levels. The authors use sample student writing and multiple classroom scenarios to illustrate how teachers have adapted this flexible tool to meet the needs of their students including using the AWC to teach revision, give feedback, direct peer to peer response groups and serve as a formative assessment guide. This resource also discusses how to set up a local scoring session and how to use the AWC in professional development. Book Features: Introduces teachers to a powerful assessment system and teaching tool to support student writing achievement. Offers a diagnostic tool for guiding students toward a common understanding of the qualities of good writing. Provides ideas for helping students learn from models and give productive feedback to peers. Illustrates ways to adjust the AWC to various grade levels and different teaching goals. Romeo and Juliet R. Brigham Lampert, 2008 Part of Prufrock's new series for the upper level classroom. Wood, 2000-05 This brief rhetoric helps students develop strategies for critical reading, critical thinking, research, and writing that will help them argue clearly and convincingly. It teaches them to identify and develop arguments, to read and form reactions and opinions of their own, to analyze an audience, to seek common ground, and to use a wide realistic range of techniques to write argument papers that express their individual views and original perspectives on modern issues. It includes clear explanations and examples of argument theory and reading and writing processes, research and documentation skills, and offers engaging class tested writing assignments and activities. 49 Essays for Analysis cover several broad issue and sub issue areas, all of contemporary concern. Unique chapters discuss student argument styles, Rogerian argument, and argument and literature. Writing Under Pressure Sanford Kaye, 1990-12-13 Most writing is done under pressure.
