The Early Enoch Literature Gabriele Boccaccini, Collins, 2007-12-01 In recent years there has been a lively debate about the early Enoch literature and its place in Judaism This volume is intended to represent that debate by juxtaposing pairs of articles on several key issues the textual evidence the relationship to the Torah the calendar the relation to wisdom the relation to the temple the sociological setting and the relation to the Dead Sea Scrolls It is not the intention of the editors to impose a consensus but rather to stimulate discussion by bringing together divergent viewpoints The book should be a useful textbook not only on the Enoch literature and apocalypticism but more generally on Second Temple Judaism

Text and Artifact in the Religions of Mediterranean Antiquity Stephen G. Wilson, Michel Desjardins, 2006-01-01 Can archaeological remains be made to speak when brought into conjunction with texts Can written remains on stone or papyrus shed light on the parables of Jesus or on the Jewish view of afterlife What are the limits to the use of artifactual data and when is the value overstated Text and Artifact addresses the complex and intriguing issue of how primary religious texts from the ancient Mediterranean world are illuminated by and in turn illuminate the ever increasing amount of artifactual evidence available from the surrounding world The book honours Peter Richardson and the first two chapters offer appreciations of this scholarship and teaching The remaining chapters focus on early Christianity late antique Judaism and topics germane to the Roman world at large Many of the essays relate to features of Jewish life the epigraphic evidence for gentile converts to Judaism or for Jewish defectors ancient accounts of the

Essenes or of the siege of Masada and the material context of the first great rabbinic work the Mishnah Other essays connect early Christian texts with the social and cultural realia of their day modes of travel notions of gender patronage and benefaction the relation of tenants and owners or reflect on the aesthetics of Christian architecture and the relation between building and ritual in Constantinian churches One study relates the writing of the famous novelist Apuleius to a household mithraeum in Ostia while another explores the changing appropriation of religious realia as the Roman world became Christian These wide ranging and original studies demonstrate clearly that texts and artifacts can be mutually supportive Equally they point to ways in which artifacts no less than texts are inherently ambiguous and teach us to be cautious in our conclusions

Studies in the Syriac Magical Traditions Marco Moriggi, Siam

Bhayro, 2021-10-25 The study of the Syriac magical traditions has largely been marginalised within Syriac studies with the earliest treatments displaying a disparaging attitude towards both the culture and its magical practices Despite significant progress in more recent scholarship in respect of the culture its magical practices and their associated literatures remain on the margins of the scholarly imagination This volume aims to open a discussion on the history of the field to evaluate how things have progressed and to suggest a fruitful way forward In doing so this volume demonstrates the incredible riches contained within the Syriac magical traditions and the necessity of their study Christians Shaping Identity from the Roman Empire to Byzantium Geoffrey Dunn, Wendy Mayer, 2015-07-14 The essays collected in Christians Shaping Identity celebrate Pauline Allen's significant contribution to early Christian late antique and Byzantine studies especially concerning bishops heresy orthodoxy and christology Covering the period from earliest Christianity to middle Byzantium the first eighteen essays explore the varied ways in which Christians constructed their own identity and that of the society around them A final four essays explore the same theme within Roman Catholicism and oriental Christianity in the late 19th to 21st centuries with particular attention to the subtle relationships between the shaping of the early Christian past and the moulding of Christian identity today Among the many leading scholars represented are Averil Cameron and Elizabeth A Clark
