Harvey In this famous experiment one of the earliest in inter group relationships two dozen twelve year old boys in summer camp were formed into two groups the Rattlers and the Eagles and induced first to become militantly ethnocentric then intensely cooperative Friction and stereotyping were stimulated by a tug of war by frustrations perceived to be caused by the out group and by separation from the others

Harmony was stimulated by close contact between previously hostile groups and by the introduction of goals that neither group could meet alone The experiment demonstrated that conflict and enmity between groups can be transformed into cooperation and vice versa and that circumstances goals and external manipulation can alter behavior Some have seen the findings of the experiment as having implications for reduction of hostility among racial and ethnic groups and among nations while recognizing the difficulty of control of larger groups
