Citing sources is a simple way of acknowledging that you are borrowing an author's words or ideas by inserting a brief parenthetical acknowledgment in your paper that includes the author's last name, the year the material was published, and the page reference.

"Genome wide association studies have also provided evidence of the importance of inflammation in Alzheimer's disease" (Jonsson et al., 2013, p. 114).

When the reader sees this reference to Jonsson et al., they know to refer to the "References" portion of the paper to find the complete bibliographic citation.

For web sites or other electronic sources that do not provide page numbers, use the paragraph number preceded by the abbreviation para., e.g. (Natural Resources Defense Council, 2017, para. 4). You may also cite the heading of a section of the resource to direct the reader to the appropriate place in the document, e.g. (Jonsson et al., 2013, Discussion section, para. 1).
