

TBOPi'S TF2 MEDIC WEAPONS

SCHMERZ SHARE PRIMARY WEAPON SLOT

Like the Equalizer, this weapon is health-dependent. The damage of the weapon and movement speed increases, the lower the Medic's health gets while the weapon is being held. No negatives are needed because of the Medic's regeneration ability, making the greater effects in stats not last long. And if this still was not a big enough con, a lower firing-speed would hopefully do.

HOUSE CALL SECONDARY WEAPON SLOT

Unlike the MediGun, this weapon doesn't heal only one person. This weapon heals anyone within a set radius of the Medic using it. Though, the more people who are being healed, the slower the healing rate becomes. Even though it can over heal like the MediGun, if another Medic is in the healing radius, or the holder is being healed by another Medic, each of those Medics count as 2-3 people (depending if they are healing). The House Call can also Uber, but the uber will only affect the holder.

SPIN DOCTOR MELEE WEAPON SLOT

The Spin Doctor does no Random Crits, but if the Medic's Ubercharge bar is full and then the player hits an enemy with the Spin Doctor, the weapon will cause 300 damage to the enemy. The negative is that the Ubercharge bar will be emptied.
