

Figure 10.1 illustrates the effects of a decrease in the price of a factor of production on the production of two goods. The economy is initially in equilibrium at point A, where the production of good X and good Y are both maximized. A decrease in the price of a factor of production shifts the production possibility frontier (PPF) outward, from PPF1 to PPF2. This shift increases the production of both goods, moving the economy to point B.
