Transformation in Gauteng 1994 to 2014 An Independent Review presents a collection of 15 important essays on different aspects of education in Gauteng since the advent of democracy in 1994 These essays talk to what a provincial education department does and how and why it does these things whether it be about policy resourcing or implementing projects Each essay is written by one or more specialist in the relevant focus area The book is written to be accessible to the general reader as well as being informative and an essential resource for the specialist reader It sheds light on aspects of how a provincial department operates and why and with what consequences certain decisions have been made in education over the last 20 turbulent years both nationally and provincially There has been no attempt to fit the book's chapters into a particular ideological or educational paradigm and as a result the reader will find differing views on various aspects of the Gauteng Department of Education's present and past We leave the reader to decide to what extent the GDE has fulfilled its educational mandate over the last 20 years

South African Schooling: The Enigma of Inequality Nic Spaull, Jonathan

D. Jansen, 2019-11-05 This volume brings together many of South Africa's leading scholars of education and covers the full range of South African schooling from financing and policy reform to in depth discussions of literacy numeracy teacher development and curriculum change The book moves beyond a historical analysis and provides an inside view of the questions South African scholars are now grappling with Are there different and preferential equilibria we have not yet thought of or explored and if so what are they In practical terms how does one get to a more equitable distribution of teachers resources and learning outcomes While decidedly local these questions resonate throughout the developing world South Africa today is the most unequal country in the world The richest 10% of South Africans lay claim to 65% of national income and 90% of national wealth This is the largest 90/10 gap in the world and one that is reflected in the schooling system Two decades after apartheid it is still the case that the life chances of most South African children are determined not by their ability or the result of hard work and determination but instead by the colour of their skin the province of their birth and the wealth of their parents Looking back on almost three decades of democracy in South Africa it is this stubbornness of inequality and its patterns of persistence that demands explanation justification and analysis This is a landmark book on basic education in South Africa an essential volume for those interested in learning outcomes and their inequality in South Africa The various chapters present conceptually and empirically sophisticated analyses of learning outcomes across divisions of race class and place The book brings together the wealth of decades of research output from top quality researchers to explore what has improved what has not and why Prof Lant Pritchett Harvard University There is much wisdom in this collection from many of the best education analysts in South Africa No surprise that they conclude that without a large and sustained expansion in well trained teachers early childhood education and adequate school resources

South Africa will continue to sacrifice its people's future to maintaining the privileges of the few Prof Martin Carnoy Stanford University Altogether one can derive from this very valuable volume if not an exact blueprint for the future then certainly at least a crucial and evidence based itinerary for the next few steps Dr Luis Crouch RTI Resources in Education ,2000

Elementary Mathematics Curriculum Materials Janine T. Remillard,Ok-Kyeong Kim,2020-03-16 The book presents comparative analyses of five elementary mathematics curriculum programs used in the U S from three different perspectives the mathematical emphasis the pedagogical approaches and how authors communicate with teachers These perspectives comprise a framework for examining what curriculum materials are comprised of what is involved in reading and interpreting them and how curriculum authors can and do support teachers in this process Although the focus of the analysis is 5 programs used at a particular point in time this framework extends beyond these specific programs and illuminates the complexity of curriculum materials and their role in teaching in general Our analysis of the mathematical emphasis considers how the mathematics content is presented in each program in terms of sequencing the nature of mathematical tasks cognitive demand and ongoing practice and the way representations are used Our analysis of the pedagogical approach examines explicit and implicit messages about how students should interact with mathematics one another the teacher and the textbook around these mathematical ideas as well as the role of the teacher In order to examine how curriculum authors support teachers we analyze how they communicate with teachers and what they communicate about including the underlying mathematics noticing student thinking and rationale for design elements The volume includes a chapter on curriculum design decisions based on interviews with curriculum authors Teaching and Learning
