A. Th. Brinkman, J. R. Durig, P. Van Espen, 2013-09-24 TRAC Trends in Analytical Chemistry Volume 8 provides information pertinent to the trends in the field of analytical chemistry. This book presents a variety of topics related to analytical chemistry, including protein purification, biotechnology, Raman spectroscopy in the pharmaceutical field, electrokinetic chromatography, and flow injection analysis. Organized into 50 chapters, this volume begins with an overview of scientometric investigations that enable the quantitative study of the evolution of its various components and can thereby uncover how information is utilized to diffuse and generate knowledge. This text then discusses the economic significance of sensing and control as being the main factors in determining process economics and in offering products and business opportunities. Other chapters consider the important relationship between Raman spectroscopy and other analytical methods. This book discusses as well the interfaces between a gas chromatograph and a Fourier transform infrared spectrometer. The final chapter deals with chemometrics routines. This book is a valuable resource for analytical chemists and biochemists. Analytical Methods for Environmental Monitoring Rafi Ahmad, Michael Cartwright, Frank Taylor, 2001 This text covers methods for detecting and monitoring pollution in air, soil, and water in the context of legal requirements and industry standards. Igniting The Chemical Ring Of Fire: Historical Evolution Of The Chemical Communities Of The Pacific Rim Seth C Rasmussen, 2018-01-18 From the rise of chemical technology in antiquity to the present day Igniting the Chemical Ring of Fire tracks the development of professional chemistry communities in the countries of the Pacific Rim Critical in this process was the development of local education and training in chemistry The doctorate in chemistry is generally regarded as coming into existence in early 19th century Germany with the model spreading globally as time passed In early years it was common for international chemistry scholars to train at the ranking German or English universities before returning to their home countries to seed a local version of the doctorate However little has been formally written about this process outside of Europe Representing a first in the field for countries of the Pacific Rim this book documents the detailed history of chemical communities in ten countries from a team of internationally renowned historians Providing insights into how and when these countries initiated local chemistry PhD programs and became independent chemical entities Igniting the Chemical Ring of Fire shows that there is no single path to development
