Fighting with the Past Aaron Sheehan-Dean,2025-08-19 Civil War Americans like people today used the past to understand and traverse their turbulent present As Aaron Sheehan Dean reveals in this fascinating work of comparative intellectual history nineteenth century Americans were especially conversant with narratives of the English Civil Wars of the 1600s Northerners and Southerners alike drew from histories of the English past to make sense of their own conflict interpreting the events of the past in drastically different ways Confederates for example likened themselves to England s Royalists also known as Cavaliers hoping to preserve a social order built on hierarchy and claiming the right to resist what they perceived as radicals assaults on tradition Meanwhile conservative Northerners painted President Lincoln as a tyrant in the mold of English Lord Protector Oliver Cromwell while radical abolitionists drew inspiration from Cromwell and sought to rebuild the South as Cromwell had attempted with Ireland Surveying two centuries of history making and everyday engagement with historical thought Sheehan Dean convincingly argues that history itself was a battlefield of the American Civil War with narratives of the past exercising surprising agency in interpretations of the nineteenth century present Sheehan Dean s discoveries provide an entirely fresh perspective on the role of historical memory in the Civil War era and offer a broader meditation on the construction and uses of history itself
