

➤ Numerical reasoning test

Companies use numerical reasoning tests to assess a candidate's ability to work with numbers. They are often used in recruitment for roles in finance, engineering, and other quantitative fields. The tests typically involve a series of questions that require the candidate to interpret and analyze numerical data, such as graphs, tables, and text.

➤ Word reasoning

Word reasoning tests are used to assess a candidate's ability to understand and use words in context. They often involve questions about the meaning of words, the relationship between words, and the ability to identify synonyms and antonyms. These tests are commonly used in recruitment for roles that require strong verbal skills, such as law, journalism, and education.
