Synthesis of Adequate Mathematical Descriptions of Physical Processes Yurii Menshykov,2020-08-11 For effective use of the results of computational calculations it is necessary that the computational schemes used correspond to real physical processes so that the schemes are adequate The issue of adequacy is currently poorly understood and there are also no generally accepted criteria of adequacy This book is the first to address the questions of constructing adequate mathematical descriptions of physical processes and their reasonable use in the future for various purposes It proposes two adequacy criteria quantitative and qualitative and describes several possible algorithms for synthesis of cases when the physical process is composed of a system of ordinary differential equations or a mathematical model in algebraic form The algorithms described here will be useful for specialists in areas where methods of mathematical modeling are used such as mechanics

Epistemology of Experimental Gravity - Scientific Rationality Nicolae Sfetcu,2019 The evolution of gravitational tests from an epistemological perspective framed in the concept of rational reconstruction of Imre Lakatos based on his methodology of research programmes Unlike other works on the same subject the evaluated period is very extensive starting with Newton s natural philosophy and up to the quantum gravity theories of today In order to explain in a more rational way the complex evolution of the gravity concept of the last century I propose a natural extension of the methodology of the research programmes of Lakatos that I then use during the paper I believe that this approach offers a new perspective on how evolved over time the concept of gravity and the methods of testing each theory of gravity through observations and experiments I argue based on the methodology of the research programmes and the studies of scientists and philosophers that the current theories of quantum gravity are degenerative due to the lack of experimental evidence over a long period of time and of self immunization against the possibility of falsification Moreover a methodological current is being developed that assigns a secondary unimportant role to verification through observations and or experiments For this reason it will not be possible to have a complete theory of quantum gravity in its current form which to include to the limit the general relativity since physical theories have always been adjusted during their evolution based on observational or experimental tests and verified by the predictions made Also contrary to a widespread opinion and current active programs regarding the unification of all the fundamental forces of physics in a single final theory based on string theory I argue that this unification is generally unlikely and it is not possible anyway for a unification to be developed based on current theories of quantum gravity including string theory In addition I support the views of some scientists and philosophers that currently too much resources are being consumed on the idea of developing quantum gravity theories and in particular string theory to include general relativity and to unify gravity with other forces as long as science does not impose such research programs
