

One-third of the population of the South is of the Negro race. His enterprise seeking the material, civil, or moral welfare of this section can disregard this element of our population and reach the highest success...

The school among my race understand that the agitation of questions of social equality is the extremist folly, and that progress in the enjoyment of all the privileges that will come to us must be the result of severe and constant struggle rather than of artificial forcing. No race that has anything to contribute to the markets of the world is long in any degree ostracized. It is important and right that all privileges of the law be ours, but it is vastly more important that we be prepared for the exercise of these privileges. The opportunity to earn a dollar in a factory just now is worth infinitely more than the opportunity to spend a dollar in an opera-house.

Booker T. Washington, Speech at Cotton States and International Exposition, Atlanta, September 18, 1895
