Gentleman's Magazine: and Historical Chronicle, 1842 Gentleman's Magazine, Or Monthly Intelligencer Sylvanus Urban (pseud. van Edward Cave.), 1847 Eighteenth-Century Women Writers and the Gentleman's Liberation Movement Megan A. Woodworth, 2016-04-29 In the late eighteenth century English novel the question of feminism has usually been explored with respect to how women writers treat their heroines and how they engage with contemporary political debates particularly those relating to the French Revolution Megan Woodworth argues that women writers' ideas about their own liberty are also present in their treatment of male characters In positing a Gentleman's Liberation Movement she suggests that Frances Burney Charlotte Smith Jane West Maria Edgeworth and Jane Austen all used their creative powers to liberate men from the very institutions and ideas about power society and gender that promote the subjection of women Their writing juxtaposes the role of women in the private spheres with men's engagement in political structures and successive wars for independence the American Revolution the French Revolution and the Napoleonic Wars The failures associated with fighting these wars and the ideological debates surrounding them made plain at least to these women writers that in denying the universality of these natural freedoms their liberating effects would be severely compromised Thus to win the same rights for which men fought women writers sought to remake men as individuals freed from the tyranny of their patriarchal inheritance The Philosophers' Quarrel Robert Zaretsky, John T. Scott, 2009-01-01 The rise and spectacular fall of the friendship between the two great philosophers of the eighteenth century barely six months after they first met reverberated on both sides of the Channel As the relationship between Jean Jacques Rousseau and David Hume unraveled a volley of rancorous letters was fired off then quickly published and devoured by aristocrats intellectuals and common readers alike Everyone took sides in this momentous dispute between the greatest of Enlightenment thinkers In this lively and revealing book Robert Zaretsky and John T Scott explore the unfolding rift between Rousseau and Hume The authors are particularly fascinated by the connection between the thinkers lives and thought especially the way that the failure of each to understand the other and himself illuminates the limits of human understanding In addition they situate the philosophers quarrel in the social political and intellectual milieu that informed their actions as well as the actions of the other participants in the dispute such as James Boswell Adam Smith and Voltaire By examining the conflict through the prism of each philosophers contribution to Western thought Zaretsky and Scott reveal the implications for the two men as individuals and philosophers as well as for the contemporary world The Gentleman's Magazine , 1782 The Gentleman's magazine section is a digest of selections from the weekly press the Trader's monthly intelligencer section consists of news foreign and domestic vital statistics a register of the month's new publications and a calendar of forthcoming trade fairs
