A Future More Vivid Selected Poems:

"this need to dance / this need to kneel" Michael P. Murphy, Melissa Bradshaw, 2019-09-17 That Denise Levertov 1923-97 was one of the most pioneering and skilled poets of her generation is beyond dispute. Her masterly use of language, innovative experimentations with organic form and the political acuity disclosed by her activist poetry are well marked by critical communities. But it is also quite clear that the poems Levertov wrote in the last twenty years of her life with their more explicit focus on theological themes and subjects are among the best poems written on religious experience of any century, let alone the twentieth. The collection of essays gathered here sheds vital light on this neglected aspect of Levertov studies so as to expand and enrich the scope of critical engagement. In a mixture of theoretical considerations and close readings, these essays provide valuable reflections about the complex relationship between poetry and belief and offer philosophically robust insights into different styles of poetic imagination. The abiding hope is to broaden the terrain for discussions in twenty-first century theology, literary theory, poetics and aesthetics, honoring immanence, exploring transcendence and dwelling with integrity within the spaces between.

Selected Poetry John Hollander, 2012-05-02 Perfection is a rare accomplishment, particularly in American poetry, and the perfection of much of Hollander's work makes it essential reading for anyone who genuinely cares for the craft of poetry. But in our fallen world we seem fated to value power over perfection, and John Hollander's poetry has shown a visionary power just often enough to secure him a place as one of the major figures of our moment.

Vernon Shetley, The New Republic Before the Country Stephanie McKenzie, 2007-11-25 In the late 1960s and early 1970s Canada witnessed an explosion in the production of literary works by Aboriginal writers, a development that some critics have called the Native Renaissance. In Before the Country, Stephanie McKenzie explores the extent to which this growing body of literature influenced non-Native Canadian writers and has been fundamental in shaping our search for a national mythology. In the context of Northrop Frye's theories of myth and in light of the attempts of social critics and early anthologists to define Canada and Canadian literature, McKenzie discusses the ways in which our decidedly fractured sense of literary nationalism has set indigenous culture apart from the mainstream. She examines anew the aesthetics of Native Literature and in a style that is creative as much as it is scholarly, McKenzie incorporates the principles of storytelling into the unfolding of her argument. This strategy not only enlivens her narrative but also underscores the need for new theoretical strategies in the criticism of Aboriginal literatures. Before the Country invites us to engage in one such endeavour.

Mary Robinson: Selected Poems Mary Robinson, 1999-10-29 Mary Robinson's work has begun again to assume a central place in discussions of Romanticism. A writer of the 1790s, a decade which saw the birth of Romanticism, revolution and enormous popular engagement with political ideas, Robinson was acknowledged in her time as a leading poet. Her writing exhibits great variety: charm, theatricality and emotional resonance are all characteristics Robinson displays. She was by turns a poet of sensibility, a poet of popular culture, a chronicler of the major events of the time and a participant in some of its chief aesthetic innovations This long awaited collection is the first critical edition of her poems The Collected Works Edward Bulwer-Lytton, 2022-01-04 Musaicum Books presents to you this meticulously edited Edward Bulwer Lytton Ultimate collection formatted to the highest digital standards and adjusted for readability on all devices Novels or The Parc King Arthur Corn Flowers I Corn Flowers II Earlier Poems The Land of Promise A Fable Play The Lady of Lyons or Love and Pride Historical Works Athens Its Rise and Fall The Spectator ,1869 A weekly review of politics literature theology and art Selected Poems, Essays and Letters Percy Bysshe Shelley, 1944 The Collected Poems of Anna Seward Volume 1 Lisa L.
