interested in the mathematical modelling of cognition and decision making and also interdisciplinary researchers interested in broader issues of cognition Organizational Learning. A Framework for Public Administration Karol

Olejniczak,Stanislaw Mazur,2014-07-01 In order to face the challenge of effective organizational learning in our public policies we need to address three pressing questions 1 How does learning work in our public organizations 2 What promising practices can we implement to advance learning in public organizations 3 What changes in public management are required to combine learning with the growing demands of performance and accountability This book is an attempt to address those questions in a systematic and empirical manner The answers presented in this volume are the result of a four year empirical research project conducted in Polish ministries and study visits in public institutions of twelve countries of the Organization for Economic Co operation and Development Economics as a Social Science Andrew M. economic theory from mathematics restoring a realistic approach to human motivations and behavior in the real world economy Agent-Based Computer Simulation of Dichotomous Economic Growth Roger A. McCain,2012-12-06

Agent Based Computer Simulation of Dichotomous Economic Growth reports a project in agent based computer stimulation of processes of economic growth in a population of boundedly rational learning agents The study is an exercise in comparative simulation That is the same family of growth models will be simulated under different assumptions about the nature of the learning process and details of the production and growth processes The purpose of this procedure is to establish a relationship between the assumptions and the simulation results The study brings together a number of theoretical and technical developments only some of which may be familiar to any particular reader In this first chapter some issues in economic growth are reviewed and the objectives of the study are outlined In the second chapter the simulation techniques are introduced and illustrated with baseline simulations of boundedly rational learning processes that do not involve the complications of dealing with long run economic growth The third chapter sketches the consensus modern theory of economic growth which is the starting point for further study In the fourth chapter a family of steady growth models are simulated bringing the simulation growth and learning aspects of the study together In subsequent chapters variants on the growth model are explored in a similar way The ninth chapter introduces trade with a spacial trading model that is combined with the growth model in the tenth chapter The book returns again and again to the key question to what extent can the simulations explain the puzzles of economic growth and particularly the key puzzle of dichotomization by constructing growth and learning processes that produce the puzzling results And just what assumptions of the simulations are most predictable associated with the puzzling results
