Newsprint Literature and Local Literary Creativity in West Africa, 1900s-1960s Stephanie Newell,2023 Winner 2024 Gustav Ranis International Book Prize Groundbreaking examination of literary production in West African newspapers and local printing presses in the first half of the 20th century which adds an African perspective to transatlantic Black studies and shows how African newsprint creativity has shaped readers ways of imagining subjectivity and society under colonialism From their inception in the 1880s African owned newspapers in British West Africa carried an abundance of creative writing by local authors largely in English Yet to date this rich and vast array of work has largely been ignored in critical discussion of African literature and cultural history This book for the first time explores this under studied archive of ephemeral writing from serialised fiction to poetry and short stories philosophical essays articles on local history travelogues and reviews and letters and argues for its inclusion in literary genres and anglophone world literatures Combining in depth case studies of creative writing in the Ghana and Nigeria press with a major reappraisal of the Nigerian pamphlets known as Onitsha market literature and focusing on non elite authors the author examines hitherto neglected genres styles languages and crucially readerships She shows how local print cultures permeated African literary production charting changes in literary tastes and transformations to genres and styles as they absorbed elements of globally circulating English texts into formats for local consumption Offering fresh trajectories for thinking about local and transnational African literary networks while remaining attuned to local textual cultures in contexts of colonial power relations anticolonial nationalism the Cold War and global circuits of cultural exchange this important book reveals new insights into ephemeral literature as significant sites of literary production and contributes to filling a gap in scholarship on colonial West Africa North of Everything William Beard, Jerry White, 2002-06 This is the first book to comprehensively examine the development of English Canadian cinema since 1980 previous books in English have dealt either with specific films or filmmakers with policy or with specific genres avant garde film documentary films by women etc It deals with regional and institutional questions with the new authors that are defining contemporary cinema in English Canada with avant garde work and work by Aboriginal people Bringing together a wide variety of contributors the book deals with an enormous amount of cinema that has helped transform North American culture of the last two decades Scandinavian Stitches Kajsa Wikman, 2011-01-01 Celebrate the seasons with these 21

whimsical projects including quilts ornaments softies and more all with a modern take on Scandinavian folk art Textile artist Kajsa Wikman finds endless inspiration in the constantly changing natural environment The first flowers of spring the smell of the sea the warm colors of the maple leaves all of these find their way into Kajsa s creations Now she shares 21 craft projects that celebrate the changes of season in her native Finland Scandinavian Stitches features cozy winter blankets springtime Easter ornaments charming summer pillows and autumnal wallhangings as well as gorgeous quilts for every season Kajsa also includes a chapter of special Yuletide projects including ornaments and Fairy Angel Dolls A Gift of
