

Animal Adaptations

Over time, living things change and adapt to become more suited to the environment that they live in. This is called adaptation.

Polar Bear

Life Cycle Three months
Adult Size Massive animal
Average Lifespan 20-30 years

Skin
A polar bear's skin is black allowing it to absorb heat from the sunlight that passes through their translucent fur. Below the skin is a layer of insulating fat.

Claw
Polar bears are the largest land carnivores. Their most front claws are 10cm.

Fur
A double layer of fur helps to insulate from the bitter Arctic conditions. Their white appearance makes them almost invisible and blend in with their environment.

Behaviour

Polar bears are solitary animals that travel long distances over land and ice flows to search for prey.

Feet

Polar bear's large paws act as snowshoes. They only use their front limbs to propel themselves, whereas the hind limbs are used like a rubber to steer. Their large paws also enable them to spread their weight when walking on ice and snow. The sides of their feet are covered in fur and spines that to guard against the cold and aid grip on slippery surfaces.

Claws

Their long, sharp claws have many uses, such as for digging, gripping and catching prey.

Swimming

Ice flows a large, flat piece of floating ice.

Bromedary Camel

Mouth

Camels have tough mouths that can cope with eating prickly plants.

Feet

Bromedary camels have wide, padded feet with two toes that roll up when on sand. They prevent the sand from burning in feet or sinking.

Diet

Camels are herbivores and eat a selection of desert vegetation including trees, shrubs and thorny plants. They can survive for extended periods of time without food or water.
