Argumentation and Critical Decision Making Richard D. Rieke, Malcolm Osgood Sillars, 1997 The principles of practical reasoning integrated into real world applications is the basic premise behind Professors Richard D Rieke and Malcolm O Sillars fourth edition of Argumentation and Critical Decision Making The most current theories and research are combined with classic rhetoric to effectively explain the necessary functions of decision making in any given situation With an increased emphasis on critical thinking Rieke and Sillars help connect critical decisions with audience values and conventions Real life examples are used to illuminate the principles of argumentation ranging from interpersonal discussions to formalized conventions of science and law A new discussion of language and argumentation highlights language practices that have had the most impact on effective argumentation

Disturbing Argument Catherine Palczewski, 2015-01-30 This edited volume represents the best of the scholarship presented at the 18th National Communication Association American Forensic Association Conference on Argumentation This biennial conference brings together a lively group of argumentation scholars from a range of disciplinary approaches and a variety of countries Disturbing Argument contains selected works that speak both to the disturbing prevalence of violence in the contemporary world and to the potential of argument itself to disturb the very relations of power that enable that violence Scholars essays analyze a range of argument forms including body and visual argument interpersonal and group argument argument in electoral politics public argument argument in social protest scientific and technical argument and argument and debate pedagogy Contributors study argument using a range of methodological approaches from social scientifically informed studies of interpersonal group and political argument to humanistic examinations of argument theory political discourse and social protest to creatively informed considerations of argument practices that truly disturb the boundaries of what we consider argument Environmental Communication and Community Tarla Rai Peterson, Hanna Ljunggren Bergeå, Andrea M. Feldpausch-Parker, Kaisa Raitio, 2016-04-28 As society has become increasingly aware of environmental issues the challenge of structuring public participation opportunities that strengthen democracy while promoting more sustainable communities has become crucial for many natural resource agencies industries interest groups and publics The processes of negotiating between the often disparate values held by these diverse groups and formulating and implementing policies that enable people to fulfil goals associated with these values can strengthen communities as well as tear them apart This book provides a critical examination of the role communication plays in social transition through both construction and destruction of community The authors examine the processes and practices put in play when people who may or may not have previously seen themselves as interconnected communicate with each other often in situations where they are competing for the same resources Drawing upon a diverse selection of case studies on the American Asian and European continents the chapters chart a range of approaches to environmental communication including symbolic construction modes of organising and agonistic politics of communication This volume will be of great interest to researchers teachers and practitioners of environmental communication environmental conflict community development and natural resource management Argumentation Lapakko Ph. D. David Lapakko Ph. D., David Lapakko, 2009-10 Argumentation Critical Thinking in Action 2nd ed explores a wide variety of issues and concepts connected to making arguments responding to the arguments of others and using good critical thinking skills to analyze persuasive communication Key topics include the nature of claims evidence and reasoning common fallacies in reasoning traits associated with good critical thinking how language is used strategically in argument ways to organize an argumentative case how to refute an opposing argument or case cultural dimensions of argument and ways to make a better impression either orally or in writing Agreement in Argumentation Francesca Santulli, Chiara Degano, 2022-11-29 This book explores the construction of agreement in the argumentative process aiming to investigate how the activation of shared knowledge values and beliefs leads to the creation of a common ground between the speaker and the audience in the pursuit of persuasion In the first part of the book the authors examine agreement from a historical and theoretical perspective setting in relation major ancient and contemporary approaches to argumentation with special regard for the notions of ethos objects of agreement starting points and topoi all with a focus on their deployment in discourse This is complemented with a compendium of linguistic resources that can be exploited for the discursive construction of agreement offering a principled selection of structures across different levels of language description The second part of the book is devoted to the investigation of actual uses of agreement in a choice of institutional genres within the domain of the US presidential elections the Presidential Announcement the TV debate and the Inaugural Address Due to their political relevance and cultural salience these genres provide an ideal interface for observing the interplay of discursive and argumentative components against the backdrop of a shared cultural heritage rich with intertextual references The application of the theoretical framework developed in the first part of the book to the analysis of real political discourse carried out in the second is the distinguishing feature of this volume making it of interest to linguists and argumentation scholars as well as to political scientists and communicators

The Total Question Workout Bennett E. McClellan, 2014-04-02 Here's the one minute description of TQW You have a Big Question of some kind You know it's a Big Question because it's keeping you up at night the outcome is important and you don't have a ready answer There are four stages you need to go through to answer a Big Question I don't know where you are in the process so let me describe the four stages The first stage involves fully understanding your situation and your motives for wanting to resolve the question that comes from being in that situation The second stage involves separating yourself from the situation you are in You cannot resolve a situation if you see yourself as part of it You have to gain perspective by separating yourself from your situation in as many ways as possible The third stage involves letting go of something that keeps you attached to and subject to the situation you are in Something is holding you back Some fear some projection of implications some belief about what is possible and what is not possible Something As long as you hold onto these things they will hold you back Fourth you need to perceive new possibilities for resolving your Big Question For various reasons you are not able to see alternative resolutions today You need to reframe your question in a way that will enable you to apply the substantial resources you have to address each and every part of the question If you have a Big Question you are stuck at one of those four stages At which stage are you stuck McClellan provides a complete roadmap for getting from the question you have to the question you need to answer Dither no longer Commit to the Total Question Workout Address the Big Question you need to answer to take charge of running your business or your life You can move forward But first you have to take the next step

Reasonableness and Effectiveness in Argumentative Discourse Frans H. van Eemeren, 2015-08-27 This volume presents 50 contributions on the themes of reasonableness and effectiveness and their connections which are central issues in argumentation theory It discusses van Eemeren's views on the study of argumentation the approach to argumentation adopted in pragma dialectics pragma dialectical perspectives on the dialectical and pragmatic dimensions of argumentative discourse the notion of strategic maneuvering the pragma dialectical method of analyzing argumentative discourse the treatment of fallacies as violations of rules for critical discussion pragma dialectical views on context the role of logic verbal indicators of argumentative moves and argument schemes and the process of writing and rewriting argumentative texts The pragma dialectical quantitative approach to empirical research on argumentative discourse is illustrated by reporting on selected illustrative experimental studies as well as qualitative studies of historical cases

Crucial Concepts in Argumentation Theory F. H. van Eemeren, 2001 Crucial Concepts in Argumentation Theory is a collection of essays that discuss a series of important issues in the study of argumentation The essays describe the concepts that are crucial to argumentational research and the various ways these concepts have been approached. The essays explore such issues as points of view, unexpressed premises, argument schemes, argumentation structures, fallacies, argument interpretation and reconstruction, and argumentation in law. Each of the essays provides interested readers with an overview of the literature that can serve as a point of departure for further study.

Keeping in Touch With Pragma-Dialectics Eveline T. Feteris, Bart Garssen, A. Francisca Snoeck Henkemans, 2011-01-01

Keeping in touch with Pragma Dialectics is written to honor Frans van Eemeren and his work in the field of argumentation theory on the occasion of his retirement. The volume contains 17 contributions from teams of authors consisting of a combination of a pragma dialectician and one or two researchers with a different background in the field of argumentation. In this volume, comparisons between the pragma dialectical approach and other approaches are made; aspects of strategic maneuvering such as the use of presentational techniques, adaptation to the audience, and the selection of topics are dealt with; and the influence of specific institutional contexts such as politics, medicine, and internet forums on strategic maneuvering are discussed.
