Clawing for the Stars Bob Villarreal, 2014-03-07 When most altitude climbers reach their mid forties they slow down but for Bob Villarreal these years marked the beginning of his climbing career rather than the end At forty he took a rock climbing class but it wasn't what he was looking for In a moment of pure and life changing serendipity an article about climbing the Andes lit a new fire within him and an obsession was born At that point Bob retired from business and took up mountain climbing He lost his heart to the staggering raw and wild beauty of the High Andes returning there time and time again to challenge himself almost always on his own In defiance of the basic rules of wilderness exploration Bob traveled solo well aware that calamity was only one loose rock away and that his survival was never guaranteed One might wonder why anyone especially someone in middle age would climb alone in the Andes even once let alone nineteen times out of thirty total climbs Its a question that Villarreal himself can't adequately answer Was he in search of adventure danger or deeper meaning in his life and did he ever find his elusive purpose on the mountain This memoir recalls his perilous adventures on famous Andean peaks as well as mountains in the remotest parts of the Andes along the lengthy border between Chile and Argentina
