Annihilating Difference The Anthropology Of:

Annihilating Difference Alexander Laban Hinton, 2002-08-15 This text presents a collection of original essays on genocide It explores a wide range of cases including Nazi Germany Cambodia Guatemala Rwanda and Bosnia Handbook of Transnational Crime and Justice Philip Reichel, Jay Albanese, 2013-04-29 Transnational crime and justice will characterize the 21st century in same way that traditional street crimes dominated the 20th century In the Handbook of Transnational Crime and Justice Philip Reichel and Jay Albanese bring together top scholars from around the world to offer perspectives on the laws crimes and criminal justice responses to transnational crime This concise reader friendly handbook is organized logically around four major themes the problem of transnational crime analysis of specific transnational crimes approaches to its control and regional geographical analyses Each comprehensive chapter is designed to be explored as a stand alone topic making this handbook an important textbook and reference tool for students and practitioners alike A Companion to Medical Anthropology Merrill Singer, Pamela I. Erickson, 2015-04-20 A Companion to Medical Anthropology examines the current issues controversies and state of the field in medical anthropology today Provides an expert view of the major topics and themes to concern the discipline since its founding in the 1960s Written by leading international scholars in medical anthropology Covers environmental health global health biotechnology syndemics nutrition substance abuse infectious disease and sexuality and reproductive health and other topics Anthropology Matters Shirley A. Fedorak, 2017-01-01 Anthropology Matters places the study of anthropology concretely in the world that surrounds it It takes a question based approach to introducing important anthropological concepts by embedding those concepts in contemporary global issues that will interest students The third edition of this popular text has been updated throughout and includes two new chapters globalization and transnational mobility and the responsibility of the global community to refugees The book has also been revised and updated throughout to reflect current events and popular topics including the impact of social media on social political and religious systems interviews with women who veil and discussion of design anthropology A Companion to Psychological Anthropology Conerly Casey, Robert B. Edgerton, 2008-04-15 This Companion provides the first definitive overview of psychocultural anthropology a subject that focuses on cultural psychological and social interrelations across cultures Brings together original essays by leading scholars in the field Offers an in depth exploration of the concepts and topics that have emerged through contemporary ethnographic work and the processes of global change Key issues range from studies of consciousness and time emotion cognition dreaming and memory to the lingering effects of racism and ethnocentrism violence identity and subjectivity Genocide and its Threat to Contemporary International Order A. Gallagher, 2013-01-21 For far too long the discipline of International Relations has failed to engage with the study of genocide This is despite the fact that genocide holds a direct relationship with the central concepts of international relations the state war power and security This bold innovative and unique book sets out to tackle this by bringing the concept of genocide into the discipline of IR via the English School in order to theorise the relationship between genocide justice and order Drawing on a wide range of primary and secondary interdisciplinary material from International Relations Genocide Studies Security Studies International Law History Politics and Political Theory this book aims to understand genocide within the context of International Relations and the implications that this has on policymaking Gallagher identifies the obstacles and challenges involved in bringing the study of genocide into IR and uniquely analyses the impact of genocide on the ordering structure of international society

Never Meant to Survive João H. Costa Vargas, 2023-06-14 Never Meant to Survive presents a historical political and social assessment of anti black genocide and liberatory struggles that arose to resist it Based on fine grained accounts of community life at the street level Costa Vargas s work presents crucial examples of political resistance and community activism By examining two cities linked by common experiences of Blackness Los Angeles and Rio de Janeiro this book identifies a prevailing genocidal force that organizes individuals and groups across society The 1965 and 1992 riots in Los Angeles the work of the Black Panther Party and favela activists in Brazil and police brutality in struggles between black communities and the state in both L A and Rio de Janeiro all figure importantly in Costa Vargas s compelling account What emerges from this analysis is a call for the destruction of the conditions that foster the marginalization of black communities and a halt to the internal conflicts between black social groups themselves

HIV/AIDS and the Social Consequences of Untamed Biomedicine Graham Fordham, 2014-11-13 Drawing on the case of HIV AIDS in Thailand this book examines how anthropological and other interpretative social science research has been utilized in modeling the AIDS epidemic and in the design and implementation of interventions It argues that much social science research has been complicit with the forces that generated the epidemic and with the social control agendas of the state and that as such it has increased the weight of structural violence bearing upon the afflicted The book also questions claims of Thai AIDS control success arguing that these can only be made at the cost of excluding categories such as intravenous drug users the incarcerated and homosexuals who continue to experience extraordinarily high levels of levels of HIV infection Considered deviant and undeserving these persons have deliberately been excluded from harm reduction programs Overall this work argues for the untapped potential of anthropological research in the health field a confident anthropology rooted in ethnography and a critical reflexivity Crucially it argues that in context of interdisciplinary collaborations anthropological research must refuse relegation to the status of an adjunct discipline and must be free epistemologically and methodologically from the universalizing assumptions and practices of biomedicine

Anthropology and the Politics of Representation Gabriela Vargas-Cetina, 2013-02 This book examines the inherently problematic nature of representation and description of living people specifically in ethnography and more generally in anthropological work as a whole In this book the editor brings together a group of international scholars who through their fieldwork experiences reflect on the epistemological political and personal implications of their own work To do so they focus on such topics as ethnography

anthropologists engagement in identity politics representational practices the contexts of anthropological research and work and the effects of personal choices regarding self involvement in local causes that may extend beyond purely ethnographic goals

Massacres and Morality Alex J. Bellamy, 2012-09-27 Most cultural and legal codes agree that the intentional killing of civilians whether in peacetime or war is prohibited Yet despite this fact the deliberate killing of large numbers of civilians remains a persistent feature of global political life

Anthropologica ,2006

Genocide Adam Jones, 2006-09-27 An invaluable introduction to the subject of genocide explaining its history from pre modern times to the present day with a wide variety of case studies Recent events in the former Yugoslavia Rwanda East Timor and Iraq have demonstrated with appalling clarity that the threat of genocide is still a major issue within world politics The book examines the differing interpretations of genocide from psychology sociology anthropology and political science and analyzes the influence of race ethnicity nationalism and gender on genocides In the final section the author examines how we punish those responsible for waging genocide and how the international community can prevent further bloodshed

New Directions in Genocide Research Adam Jones, 2012-03-12 This edited book seeks to capture the range of new approaches theories and case studies in the field of genocide studies

Politics and Racism Beyond Nations J. P. Linströth, 2022-01-18 This book brings together theoretical knowledge from diverse fields as anthropology biology neurology peace studies political science psychology and sociology to address key challenges that transcend borders It demonstrates how differences are created on many levels to reveal how the othering project is evident through national policies of immigration through aspiring nationalisms through genocidal inhumanity and the subsequent effects of such othering evident in racial trauma It further argues that we cannot limit our understanding of racism to forms of white nationalism or whiteness movements in the developed world and regions but look to the global formulation of such discrimination in colonial histories The book introduces each chapter by providing rich ethnographic narratives from informants based upon the author s research on nationalism racism genocide terrorism trauma scientific tolerance and love and peace as well as some auto ethnographic narratives from the author's research on these themes

This Place Will Become Home Laura C. Hammond, 2018-08-06
 How do communities grapple with the challenges of reconstruction after conflicts? In one of the first in-depth ethnographic accounts of refugee repatriation anywhere in the world, Laura C. Hammond follows the story of Ada Bai, a returnee settlement with a population of some 7,500 people. In the days when refugees first arrived, Ada Bai was an empty field along Ethiopia's northwest border, but it is now a viable, arguably thriving community. For the former refugees who fled from northern Ethiopia to eastern Sudan to escape war and famine in 1984 and returned to their country of birth in 1993, coming home really meant creating a new home out of an empty space. Settling in a new area, establishing social and kin ties, and inventing social practices, returnees gradually invested their environment with meaning and began to consider their settlement home. Hammond outlines the roles that gender and generational differences played in this process and how the residents came to define the symbolic and geographical boundaries of Ada Bai. Drawing on her fieldwork from 1993 to 1995 and regular shorter periods since, Hammond describes the process by which a place is made meaningful through everyday practice and social interaction. This Place Will Become Home provides insight into how people cope with extreme economic hardship, food insecurity, and limited access to international humanitarian or development assistance in their struggle to attain economic self-sufficiency.

The Bioarchaeology of Violence Debra L. Martin, Ryan P. Harrod, 2012-08-05
 Human violence is an inescapable aspect of our society and culture. As the archaeological record clearly shows, this has always been true. What is its origin? What role does it play in shaping our behavior? How do ritual acts and cultural sanctions make violence acceptable? These and other questions are addressed by the contributors to The Bioarchaeology of Violence. Organized thematically, the volume opens by laying the groundwork for new theoretical approaches that move beyond interpretation; it then examines case studies from small-scale conflict to warfare to ritualized violence. Experts on a wide range of ancient societies highlight the meaning and motivation of past uses of violence, revealing how violence often plays an important role in maintaining and suppressing the challenges to the status quo and how it is frequently a performance meant to be witnessed by others. The interesting and nuanced insights offered in this volume explore both the costs and the benefits of violence throughout human prehistory.

War and Sacrifice Tony Pollard, Iain Banks, 2007
 This collection of papers on the archaeology of conflict covers a wide range in both time and space, running from Sub-Neolithic Finland to early Modern Ireland. The papers include a diverse series of approaches to the study of conflict using excavation, osteology, artefacts, and linguistics.

My Father's Wars Alisse Waterston, 2024-09-17
 Winner International Congress of Qualitative Inquiry Outstanding Book Award 2016
 My father was born into war; he begins this remarkable saga in Alisse Waterston's intimate ethnography, a story that is also twentieth-century social history. This is an anthropologist's vivid account of her father's journey across continents, countries, cultures, languages, generations, and wars. It is a daughter's moving portrait of a charming, funny, wounded, and difficult man, his relationships with those he loved, and his most sacred beliefs. And it is a scholar's reflection on the dramatic forces of history the experience of exile and immigration the legacies of culture and the enduring power of memory This book is for Anthropology and Sociology courses in qualitative methods ethnography violence migration and ethnicity Social Exclusion and Policies of Inclusion Smita Mishra Panda,Annapurna Devi Pandey,Supriya Pattanayak,2022-05-07 This book brings together cross cultural perspectives on political economy of social exclusion and a critical view of policies of inclusion The themes covered are political economy of social exclusion inclusionary policy outcomes persistent challenges to social exclusion and rethinking social exclusion and inclusion The contexts are located in varied geographies including India South East Asia USA Canada Mexico Australia and Papua New Guinea The book throws light on how historically social inclusion of various excluded communities has always been a part of nation building with varying results Furthermore it highlights how the terrain of social exclusion is becoming increasingly complex today It provides the space to reimagine issues of inclusion and exclusion within the social policy landscape of a country It provides ways to rethink policies of inclusion such that dialogue between the excluded and the state is enhanced and the systems of seeking justice for a dignified life peace and freedom are improved It appeals to policy makers academicians and practitioners of development and social policy studies planning and governance in both developing and developed countries
