New German Cinema Julia Knight, 2004 Comprising a discussion of Alice in the Cities The Bitter Tears of Petra von Kant Heimat and The American Friend Julia Knight's study examines the American dominance of German film the framework of European art cinema and how German cinema engages with contemporary German reality

The Animated Bestiary Paul Wells, 2008-11-28 Cartoonists and animators have given animals human characteristics for so long that audiences are now accustomed to seeing Bugs Bunny singing opera and Mickey Mouse walking his dog Pluto The Animated Bestiary critically evaluates the depiction of animals in cartoons and animation more generally Paul Wells argues that artists use animals to engage with issues that would be more difficult to address directly because of political religious or social taboos Consequently and principally through anthropomorphism animation uses animals to play out a performance of gender sex and sexuality racial and national traits and shifting identity often challenging how we think about ourselves Wells draws on a wide range of examples from the original King Kong to Nick Park's Chicken Run to Disney cartoons such as Tarzan The Jungle Book and Brother Bear to reflect on people by looking at the ways in which they respond to animals in cartoons and films

Chinese Independent Animation Wenhai Zhou, 2020-04-23 This study of independent animation opens up a quietly subversive and vibrant dimension of contemporary Chinese culture which hitherto has not received as much attention as dissident art or political activism Scholarly interest in Chinese animation has increased over the last decade with attention paid to the conventional media circle of production distribution and consumption The independent sector has been largely ignored however until now By focusing on distinctive independent artists like Pisan and Lei Lei and situating their work within the present day media ecology the author examines the relationship between the genre and the sociocultural transformation of contemporary China Animation the author argues has a special significance as the nature of the animation text is itself multilayered and given to multiple interpretations and avenues of engagement Through an examination of the affordances of this independent media entity the author explores how this multifaceted cultural form reveals ambiguities that parallel contradictions in art and society In so doing independent animation provides a convenient mirror for examining how recent social upheavals have been negotiated and how certain practitioners have found effective ways for discussing the post Socialist reality within the current political configuration Film Dialogue Jeff Jaeckle,2013-06-25 Film Dialogue is the first anthology in film studies devoted to the topic of language in cinema bringing together leading and emerging scholars to discuss the aesthetic narrative and ideological dimensions of film speech that have largely gone unappreciated and unheard Consisting of thirteen essays divided into three sections genre auteur theory and cultural representation Film Dialogue revisits and reconfigures several of the most established topics in film studies in an effort to persuade readers that spectators are more accurately described as audiences that the gaze has its equal in eavesdropping and that images are best understood and appreciated through their interactions with words Including an introduction that outlines a methodology of film dialogue study and adopting an accessible prose style throughout Film Dialogue is a welcome addition to ongoing debates about the place value and purpose of language in cinema Contemporary British and Irish Film Directors Yoram Allon,Del Cullen,Hannah Patterson,2001 The guide encompasses the careers of over 350 directors from the last 20 years A must for any film studies library it is a unique reference to the changing dynamics of these cinemas
