Martin,Rebecca Peabody,2015-07-01 Lawrence Alloway 1926 1990 was a key figure in the development of modern art in Europe and America from the 1950s to the 1980s He is credited with coining the term pop art and with championing conceptual art and feminist artists in America His interests as a critic and as a curator at the Solomon R Guggenheim Museum in New York were wide ranging however and included architecture design earthworks film neorealism science fiction and public sculpture Early in his career he was associated with the Independent Group in London and although he was largely self taught he was a noted educator and lecturer A prolific writer Alloway sought to escape the conventions of art historical discourse This volume illuminates how he often shaped the field and anticipated approaches such as social art history and visual and cultural studies Lawrence Alloway Critic and Curator provides the first critical analysis of the multiple facets of Alloway's life and career exploring his formative influence on the disciplines of art history art criticism and museum studies The nine essays in this volume depend on primary archival research much of it conducted in the Lawrence Alloway Papers held by the Getty Research Institute Each author addresses a distinct aspect of Alloway's eclectic professional interests and endeavors Federal Register ,1979-12 Modern Perspectives in Western Art History W. Eugene Kleinbauer,Medieval Academy of America,1989-01-01 A collection of essays that reflect the breadth of twentieth century scholarship in art history Kleinbauer has sought to illustrate the variety of methods scholars have developed for conveying the unfolding of the arts in the Western world Originally published by Holt Rinehart and Winston 1971 Modern Playhouses Alistair Fair,2018-03-16 Modern Playhouses is the first detailed study of the major programme of theatre building which took place in Britain between the 1950s and the 1980s Drawing on a vast range of archival material much of which had never previously been studied by historians it sets architecture in a wide social and cultural context presenting the history of post war theatre buildings as a history of ideas relating not only to performance but also to culture citizenship and the modern city During this period more than sixty major new theatres were constructed in locations from Plymouth to

Inverness Aberystwyth to Ipswich The most prominent example was the National Theatre in London but the National was only the tip of the iceberg Supported in many cases by public subsidies these buildings represented a new kind of theatre conceived as a public service Theatre was ascribed a transformative role serving as a form of productive recreation at a time of increasing affluence and leisure New theatres also contributed to debates about civic pride urbanity and community Ultimately theatre could be understood as a vehicle for the creation of modern citizens in a consciously modernizing Britain Yet while recognizing as contemporaries did that the new theatres of the post war decades represented change Modern Playhouses also asks how radically different these buildings really were and what their mainstream architecture reveals of the history of modern British architecture and of post war Britain
