Higher Education and the COVID-19 Pandemic ,2022-06-13 COVID 19 caused massive disruptions in the higher education sector across the world The transition to online learning exposed the deep rooted inequalities between countries systems institutions and student groups in terms of the availability of information technology infrastructure internet access and digital literacy as well as prior training and experiences of faculty in online education This volume explores various aspects of the impact of the pandemic on higher education management including how university administration responded to the crisis and the role of local and national government agencies in academic support and higher education delivery The key findings highlight the importance of better organisation and preparedness of higher education systems for future crises and the need for a better dialogue between governments higher education institutions and other stakeholders The book calls for a collective response to address the digital divide among various groups and financial inequalities within and between the private and public universities and to plan for the serious challenges that international students face during crisis situations

Annual Report Mpumalanga (South Africa). Department of Education,2011 Assessment Practices with Indigenous Children, Youth, Families, and Communities Shaun Murphy,Trudy Cardinal,Janice Huber,Stefinee Pinnegar,2023-04-03

Teaching Politics in Secondary Education Wayne Journell,2017-11-21 Uses data collected from multiple studies starting with Obama s historic 2008 candidacy through his reelection in 2012 to offer recommendations on best practices Many social studies teachers report feeling apprehensive about discussing potentially volatile topics in the classroom because they fear that administrators and parents might accuse them of attempting to indoctrinate their students Wayne Journell tackles the controversial nature of teaching politics addressing commonly raised concerns such as how to frame divisive political issues whether teachers should disclose their personal political beliefs to students and how to handle political topics that become intertwined with socially sensitive topics such as race gender and religion Journell discusses how classrooms can become spaces for tolerant political discourse in an increasingly politically polarized American society In order to explore this Journell analyzes data that include studies of high school civics government teachers during the 2008 and 2012 presidential elections and how they integrated television programs technology and social media into their teaching The book also includes a three year study of preservice middle and secondary social studies teachers political knowledge and a content analysis of CNN Student News Journell combines philosophical inquiry into the importance of political engagement with empirical work in classrooms to present a set of arguments that are rigorous and highly relevant to both scholars and practitioners who care about political teaching and learning Joel Westheimer author of What Kind of Citizen Educating Our Children for the Common Good

□□□□ □□□□□□,Temple Grandin,2023-06-30 Temple Grandin Sociology David M. Newman,2018-07-26

This new Brief Sixth Edition of David Newman s text is the streamlined version of Sociology Exploring the Architecture of Everyday Life with the same goal to be a textbook that in the author s words reads like a real book Newman shows to see the unfamiliar in the familiar to step back and see organization and predictability in their take for granted personal experiences Newman uses the metaphors of architecture and construction to help students understand that society is not something that exists out there independently of themselves it is a human creation that is planned maintained or altered by individuals Instead of surveying every subfield in sociology this text focuses on the structural features of society the social construction of self and identity and social inequality in the context of social institutions The new edition includes examples and analysis of contemporary events and trends including The changes in our national politics brought about by the 2016 presidential election Increasing societal attention paid to fatal encounters between police and unarmed people of color or incidents of sexual harassment and assault School shootings and the debates over gun ownership The continued dramatic growth of communication technology particularly social networking sites
