Why We Kill Karl Kemp, 2024-03-02 Why do so many South Africans prefer taking the law into their own hands to relying on the police Why are those who do so often cheered or sympathised with Of the unprecedented 27 000 recorded murders in South Africa in 2022 at least 1 894 or 7 per cent were attributed to mob justice and vigilantism more than double the number from five years before In the first nine months of 2023 a further 1 472 mob justice deaths had already been registered Mob justice is nothing new but in recent years it has taken on an undeniably desperate furious edge From the breathtakingly violent Zandspruit massacre in May 2021 to the killings during the July unrest two months later to the march of Operation Dudula across the nation in 2022 vigilantism and the condoning of it has never before captured the zeitgeist of South Africa so sharply What has changed in the past few years and what does it augur for the future Following three recent cases of mob justice from the hellish metropolitan townships of Gauteng to the far flung bushveld of northern Limpopo and drawing on extensive research and interviews Why We Kill explores the roots realities and consequences of South Africa's current crisis of vigilantism

When Political Transitions Work Fanie du Toit, 2018-07-27 In When Political Transitions Work Fanie du Toit develops a coherent and versatile theory of reconciliation as interdependence based on the assumption that a state's success is inextricably linked to their enemies and a policy of mutual well being is the surest and shortest path to prosperity and peace for both

Transition and Justice Gerhard Anders, Olaf Zenker, 2014-12-23 Transition and Justice examines a series of cases from across the African continent where peaceful new beginnings were declared after periods of violence and where transitional justice institutions helped define justice and the new socio political order Offers a new perspective on transition and justice in Africa transcending the institutional limits of transitional justice Covers a wide range of situations and presents a broad range of sites where past injustices are addressed Examines cases where peaceful new beginnings have been declared after periods of violence Addresses fundamental questions about transitions and justice in societies characterized by a high degree of external involvement and internal fragmentation
