Rough Diamonds Hendrik Snyders,2025-08-22 Starting in the late 19th century South African baseball has established a fascinating and multi layered history Initially established by a small group of dedicated pioneers the sport benefited from the contributions of a diverse and multi national group of enthusiasts and opponents including sailors cricketers missionaries activists businessmen and bureaucrats Established at a time of social and political segregation the South African game eventually developed into a system of legislated racism under apartheid Through its willing participation in official race based events the sport was stripped of its innocence and South Africa was formally expelled from the world game only to be readmitted in 1992 following the country s slow transition to democracy This book presents the history of South African baseball from its inception to its liberation from apartheid Based on extensive archival research this is the first integrated history of South African baseball s eventful past Juta's Statutes of South Africa South Africa,2004

Diversity and Division in Medicine Anne Digby,2006 This is an innovative investigation of pluralism in health care Using both extensive archival material and oral histories it examines relationships between indigenous healing missionary medicine and western biomedicine The book includes the different regions within South Africa although focusing in most detail on the Cape the earliest area of white settlement In a wide ranging survey the division in medicine between western and indigenous medicine is analysed through an exploration of the evolving practices of healers missionaries doctors and nurses The book considers the extent to which there was a strategic crossing of boundaries in the construction of hybrid practices by these practitioners and the extent to which patients pursued health by sampling diverse care options Starting with missionary penetration during the early nineteenth century the volume outlines interventions by the colonial state in medicine and public health and the continued resilience of indigenous healing in the face of this The book ends by relating past to present in scrutinising the legacy of historical structures including those of the apartheid state for current health care and in briefly discussing the huge challenges that the HIV Aids pandemic poses in impacting on them The book thus provides an inclusive history of medicine for the New South Africa

Women, Economic Development, and Higher Education Diane E. Eynon,2017-06-19 This book is a multi disciplinary exploration of the intersection relationship and connection between higher education economic development and gender in post Apartheid South Africa In just twenty years South Africa has rewritten its constitution restructured its macroeconomic growth and development policies restructured its higher education system and made a commitment to provide opportunity for all its citizens specifically those who have historically been marginalized women and blacks Eynon weaves together these unique perspectives to illustrate how these multiple domains map onto women and the critical role they play in the present and future of the country Gender equality and women s empowerment and education were considered key drivers to South Africa s transformation Indigenous People and Mobile Technologies Laurel Evelyn Dyson,Stephen Grant,Max Hendriks,2015-10-05 In the rich tradition of mobile communication studies and new media this volume examines how mobile technologies are being embraced by Indigenous people all over the world As mobile phones have revolutionised society both in developed and developing countries so Indigenous people are using mobile devices to bring their communities into the twenty first century The explosion of mobile devices and applications in Indigenous communities addresses issues of isolation and building an environment for the learning and sharing of knowledge providing support for cultural and language revitalisation and offering the means for social and economic renewal This book explores how mobile technologies are overcoming disadvantage and the tyrannies of distance allowing benefits to flow directly to Indigenous people and bringing wide ranging changes to their lives It begins with general issues and theoretical perspectives followed by empirical case studies that include the establishment of Indigenous mobile networks and practices mobile technologies for social change and finally the ways in which mobile technology is being used to sustain Indigenous culture and language Decolonising Journalism Education in South Africa Ms Zubeida Jaffer ,Prof. Ylva Rodny-Gumede ,Dr Mvuso Ponono ,Prof. Colin Chasi ,2021-12-20 With 342 years of colonialism and apartheid in South Africa a book of this calibre is essential to contribute to scholarly debates on the decolonisation of the media After the democratic dispensation in 1994 there was a narrow pursuit of transformation and media freedom while neglecting decolonisation patriarchal tendencies and the plight of black women journalists who are often vilified while discharging their duties It was two decades after democracy that the RhodesMustFall movement which later evolved into FeesMustFall movement reignited debates on decoloniality in the academia Moreover the book is published during the second wave of FeesMustFall student protests and the demand for decolonised free education is inevitable as no permanent solution to student funding crisis was crafted In the same vein the book advocates for decolonised pedagogy in universities including journalism curriculum That ownership of the media is still skewed towards white and with only few black companies gradually joining the industry also brings into doubt media freedom editorial independence ethics and integrity among media practitioners Therefore the decoloniality movement seeks to confront these structural challenges head on via dialogue to ensure the integrity of the journalism profession Decolonising journalism in South Africa is published at a time in which journalism serves a watchdog and a critique of a democratic government and needs to follow a bottom up social justice approach and become a voice to the voiceless Therefore this book seeks to revolutionise the media in a way that even the language of reporting of certain issues needs to be changed to a balanced kind of reporting characterised by principles of no fear or favour Index to South African Periodicals ,1977 The Routledge Companion to Journalism in the Global South Bruce Mutsvairo,Saba Behawi,Eddy Borges-Rey,2023-11-21 Responding to mounting calls to decenter and decolonize journalism The Routledge Companion to Journalism in the Global South examines not only the deep seated challenges associated with the historical imposition of Western journalism standards on constituencies of the Global South but also the opportunities presented to journalists and journalism educators if they choose to partake in international collaboration and education This collection returns to fundamental questions around the meaning value and practices of journalism from alternative methodological theoretical and epistemological perspectives These questions include What really is journalism Who gets to and who is qualified to define it What role do ethics play What are the current trends challenges and opportunities for journalism in the Global South How is news covered reported written and edited in non Western settings What can journalism players living and working in industrialized markets learn from their non Western colleagues and counterparts and vice versa Contributors challenge accepted universal ethical standards while showing the relevance of customs traditions and cultures in defining and shaping local and regional journalism Showcasing some of the most important research on journalism in the Global South and by journalists based in the Global South this companion is key reading for anyone researching the principles and practices of journalism from a de essentialized perspective
