

Directions for the following 5 (five) items :

Read the following three passages and answer the items that follow the passages. Your answers to these items should be based on the passages only.

Passage - 1

In India, the segregation of municipal waste at source is rare. Recycling is mostly with the informal sector. More than three-fourths of the municipal budget goes into collection and transportation, which leaves very little for processing/resource recovery and disposal. Where does waste-to-energy fit into all this? Ideally it fits in the chain after segregation (between wet waste and the rest), collection, recycling, and before getting to the landfill. Which technology is most appropriate in converting waste to energy depends on what is in the waste (that is biodegradable versus non-biodegradable component) and its calorific value. The biodegradable component of India's municipal solid waste is a little over 50 per cent, and biomethanation offers a major solution for processing this.

1. Based on the above passage, the following assumptions have been made :
  1. Collection, processing and segregation of municipal waste should be with government agencies.
  2. Resource recovery and recycling require technological inputs that can be best handled by private sector enterprises.

Which of the assumptions given above is/are correct?

- (a) 1 only
- (b) 2 only
- (c) Both 1 and 2
- (d) Neither 1 nor 2

Which one of the following statements best reflects the crux of the passage?

- (a) Generation of energy from municipal solid waste is inexpensive.
- (b) Biomethanation is the most ideal way of generating energy from municipal solid waste.
- (c) Segregation of municipal solid waste is the first step in ensuring the success of waste-to-energy plants.
- (d) The biodegradable component of India's municipal solid waste is not adequate to provide energy from waste efficiently/effectively.

Passage - 2

There is a claim that organic farming is inherently safer and healthier. The reality is that because the organic farming industry is still young and not well-regulated in India, farmers and consumers, alike, are not only confused about what products are best for them, but sometimes use products in ways that could harm them as well. For example, since organic fertilizers are difficult to obtain on a large scale in India, farmers often use farmyard manure, which may contain toxic chemicals and heavy metals. Certain plant sprays, such as Datura flower and leaf spray, have an element called atropine. If it is not applied in the right dose, it can act on the nervous system of the consumer. Unfortunately, how much and when to use it are not well-researched or regulated issues.

2setswana Paper 2:

[Re]Gained in Translation, Volume 1-2 Sabine Dievenkorn, Shaul Levin, 2024-02-26 Volume 1 Translations of the Bible take place in the midst of tension between politics ideology and power With the theological authority of the book as God's Word not focusing on the process of translating is stating the obvious Inclinations fluency and zeitgeist play as serious a role as translators person faith and worldview as do their vocabulary poetics and linguistic capacity History has seen countless retranslations of the Bible What are the considerations according to which Biblical retranslations are being produced in current 21st century contexts From retranslations of the Hebrew Bible to those of the Old and New Testaments to mutual influences of Christian and Jewish translational traditions the papers collected here all deal with the question of what is to be re gained with the production of a new translation where at times many a previous one has already existed Volume 2 Times are changing and with them the norms and notions of correctness Despite a wide spread belief that the Bible as a sacred original only allows one translation if any new translations are constantly produced and published for all kinds of audiences and purposes The various paradigms marked by the theological political and historical correctness of the time group and identity and bound to certain ethics and axiomatic norms are reflected in almost every current translation project Like its predecessor the current volume brings together scholars working at the intersection of Translation Studies Bible Studies and Theology all of which share a special point of interest concerning the status of the Scriptures as texts fundamentally based on the act of translation and its recurring character It aims to breathe new life into Bible translation studies unlock new perspectives and vistas of the field and present a bigger picture of how Bible re translation works in society today Theory and description in African Linguistics Emily Clem , Peter Jenks , Hannah Sande , 2019 The papers in this volume were presented at the 47th Annual Conference on African Linguistics at UC Berkeley in 2016 The papers offer new descriptions of African languages and propose novel theoretical analyses of them The contributions span topics in phonetics phonology syntax semantics and pragmatics and reflect the typological and genetic diversity of languages in Africa Four papers in the volume examine Areal Features and Linguistic Reconstruction in Africa and were presented at a special workshop on this topic held alongside the general session of ACAL Onomastics in Interaction With Other Branches of Science. Volume 2. Anthroponomastics Urszula Bijak, Paweł Swoboda, Justyna B. Walkowiak, 2023-12-12 Onomastics is an area of scholarly interest that has grown considerably in importance in recent years Consequently the 27th International Congress of Onomastic Sciences held in 2021 in Krak w Poland gathered scholars from all over the world active in all subfields of onomastic enquiry as well as those exploring the areas bordering on other disciplines of the humanities It thus became a venue for presenting state of the art research in the study of proper names proposing novel approaches and opening new vistas for future research The present work is the second of the three volumes of conference proceedings that were the fruit of the congress Devoted to personal naming it contains 28 individual articles contributed by 32 scholars Some of them study recent fashions in name giving in countries as diverse as Bulgaria Japan Latvia Lithuania or Sweden Others explore historical trends in given name choice exemplified by Estonia or the Netherlands Family names are represented by the analyses of married names in Hungary of the surnames of Zagreb Jews of German surnames in Latvia and the Carpathian Basin or of changes of foreign sounding surnames in Sweden Unconventional naming proved scientifically fruitful too as can be seen in the chapters on village bynames in Romania or student nicknames in Russia Finally there are researchers who provide a general overview of naming patterns in countries as varied as Botswana and Hungary or Romania and China The opportunities offered by the application of new technology to onomastic research are explored in relation to the namestock in Denmark and the Netherlands Simultaneously these technologies may also themselves lead to the creation of novel objects of study a case in point being Russian Internet usernames Anthroponymic data may inform non onomastic research as well for instance they can offer insight into a country's history or ethnic composition as evidenced by texts dealing with personal naming in Hungary or Ukraine The volume is complemented by articles whose focus is the interface of onomastics and pragmatics phonetics prosody and gender studies drawing on examples drawn from Dutch Japanese Romanian Russian Spanish and Swedish The book is a must not only for onomasticians but also for researchers in related disciplines ranging from history via human geography or philosophy of language to social studies However professionals active in naming will find it useful as well since it provides a much needed supranational perspective and enables cross cultural comparisons

Finite-State Methods and Natural Language Processing Anssi Yli-Jyrä, Andras Kornai, Jacques Sakarovitch, Bruce Watson, 2010-07-24 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 8th International Workshop on the Finite State Methods and Natural Language Processing FSMNLP 2009 The workshop was held at the University of Pretoria South Africa on July 2009 In total 21 papers were submitted and of those papers 13 were accepted as regular papers and a further 6 as extended abstracts The papers are devoted to computational morphology natural language processing finite state methods automata and related formal language theory

J. Fontaine,Klaus R. Scherer,Cristina Soriano,2013-08 When using emotion terms such as anger sadness fear disgust and contempt it is assumed that the terms used in the native language of the researchers and translated into English are completely equivalent in meaning This is often not the case This book presents an extensive cross cultural linguistic review of the meaning of emotion words      From Orality to Orality James A. Maxey,2009-09-15 In this groundbreaking work Bible translation is presented as an expression of contextualization that explores the neglected riches of the verbal arts in the New Testament Going beyond a historical study of media in antiquity this book explores a renewed interest in oral performance that informs methods and goals of Bible translation today Such exploration is concretized in the New Testament translation work in central Africa among the Vute people of Cameroon This study of contextualization appreciates the agency of local communities particularly in Africa who seek to express their Christian faith in response to anthropological pauperization An extended analysis of African theologians demonstrates the ultimate goals of contextualization liberation and identity Oral performance exploits all the senses in experiencing communication while performer text and audience negotiate meaning Performance not only expresses but also shapes identity as communities express their faith in varied contexts This book contends that the New Testament compositions were initially performed and not restricted to individualized silent reading This understanding encourages a reexamination of how Bible translation can be done Performance is not a product but a process that infuses biblical studies with new insights methods and expressions
