learning and deep learning topics relevant to materials science and engineering accompanied by numerous examples and applications Almost all methods and algorithms introduced are implemented from scratch using Python and NumPy The book starts with an introduction to statistics and probabilities explaining important concepts such as random variables and probability distributions Bayes theorem and correlations sampling techniques and exploratory data analysis and puts them in the context of materials science and engineering Therefore it serves as a valuable primer for both undergraduate and graduate students as well as a review for research scientists and practicing engineers The second part provides an in depth introduction of statistical machine learning It begins with outlining fundamental concepts and proceeds to explore a variety of supervised learning techniques for regression and classification including advanced methods such as kernel regression and support vector machines The section on unsupervised learning emphasizes principal component analysis and also covers manifold learning t SNE and UMAP and clustering techniques Additionally feature engineering feature importance and cross validation are introduced The final part on neural networks and deep learning aims to promote an understanding of these methods and dispel misconceptions that they are a black box The complexity gradually increases until fully connected networks can be implemented Advanced techniques and network architectures including GANs are implemented from scratch using Python and NumPy which facilitates a comprehensive understanding of all the details and enables the user to conduct their own experiments in Deep Learning Soil Degradation and Restoration in Africa Rattan Lal,B. A.

Stewart,2019-07-09 Soil degradation is a widespread problem in Africa resulting in decreased agricultural productivity while demand for food continues to increase Degradation is caused by accelerated erosion acidification contamination depletion of soil organic matter and plant nutrients and salinization The major cause of soil degradation in Africa is uncontrolled and excessive grazing in the savanna regions followed by deforestation and the use of inappropriate and extractive farming practices Perpetual neglect of the health of soils in Africa can exacerbate the already serious problems of food and nutritional insecurity and environmental degradation Food and nutritional security of the growing population of Africa can only be achieved if degraded soils are restored and soils of agroecosystems are managed prudently and sustainably Ignoring soils and taking the fragile finite and precious soil resources for granted is the principal cause of poverty hunger and environmental degradation The downward spiral must be reversed through soil restoration measures based on translating science into action This book describes the soils of Africa processes of soil degradation extent and severity of soil degradation and the impacts of degradation processes on food and nutritional security Features Explores the extent and severity of soil degradation in Africa Analyzes the cause effect relationship between anthropogenic activities and soil degradation Reviews processes of soil degradation in Africa including erosion salinization nutrient depletion and decline of soil organic matter Addresses the effect of climate change on soil degradation in Africa Explains how soil degradation causes food and nutritional insecurity Part of the Advances in Soil Sciences series this volume is specifically devoted to the processes and factors that cause soil degradation and the challenges and potential for remediation and restoration of soil health in Africa
