

The three little pigs

Once upon a time, there were    three little pigs who left their home to build their own houses. The first little pig built his house out of straw,  the second little pig built his house out of sticks,  and the third little pig built his house out of bricks.

One day, a big bad wolf  came to the straw house and said, "Little pig, little pig, let me come in." But the little pig replied,  "No, no, not by the hair on my chinny chin chin!" The wolf then huffed and puffed and blew the straw house down.  The little pig quickly ran to his brother's house made of sticks.

The wolf followed the little pig to the stick house and said, "Little pigs, little pigs, let me come in." But

Christie, Billie Enz, Carol Vukelich, 2003 The unique focus of this text integrates constructivist learning diversity and instruction based assessment and helps translate principles into practice The central underlying thesis of Teaching Language and Literacy is that children are at the center of all good language and literacy teaching The text with broad coverage of preschool through the elementary grades advocates an appreciation of student diversity and an implementation of assessment strategies relating to specific learning teaching events The text describes how children construct their own knowledge about oral and written language by engaging in integrated meaningful and functional activities with other people in a variety of contexts It then goes one step further describing how teachers can design authentic classroom reasons for using oral and written language In keeping with the text s theme illustrations of how teachers can work effectively with diverse learners appear throughout the text In addition instructionally linked assessment is another important topic central to the text
