

Ah Back Math: Answers Knowing All Angles

Highly skilled, but scarce professionals—Africa's rich, though mostly unexploited, human resources and talents need incentives to enter a sector that traditionally underperforms. While the industry has expanded to give and carry its own, the continent has lagged behind. The continent's human resources, however, are not scarce. The continent has a large and growing labor force, and the continent is a leading source of skilled labor.

For more information, please contact the National Transportation Safety Board at 800-875-5242 or visit the NTSB website at www.ntsb.gov. The NTSB is an independent federal agency that investigates transportation accidents and incidents. It is not a law enforcement agency and does not have the authority to conduct criminal investigations. The NTSB's primary mission is to determine the causes of transportation accidents and incidents and to issue safety recommendations to prevent future accidents and incidents. The NTSB's investigations are conducted in a fair and impartial manner, and its findings are based on the evidence presented to it. The NTSB's recommendations are issued to the relevant government agencies and industry groups, and they are intended to be adopted as a means of improving transportation safety. The NTSB's work is funded by the federal government, and it is a permanent part of the federal government's transportation safety program.
