

USING A MANNEQUIN

A mannequin (also called a model or dummy, for figure or dress form) is an often articulated doll used for artistic, fashion, anatomical, medical, and other purposes in design or the sciences.

The artist/mannequin already handles some of the body's basic shapes, rounded, geometric shapes. The mannequin will have some degree of volume loss if you are putting your mannequin in different poses and poses drawing is. If you are adding a drawing mannequin, it can be helpful as you a mannequin to provide specific poses that you find particularly difficult.

Of course, mannequins are not quite rigid, so they are not a substitute for practice on humans. The key point of the step and drawing life of the figure (or character) is to be able to make your figure more realistic.

Constructing head and neck

PRACTICE DRAWING SHAPES

Commonly, shapes of all kinds can be used to construct almost any complex object. You can use them to create a simple, while a more complex one will require a combination of the many other shapes.

Building a drawing that is composed of geometric shapes will require that you start from a point and move together. Working back and forth between a point and a line, you can create a series of lines that will form the shape of the hand. The point is to create a series of lines that will form the shape of the hand. The point is to create a series of lines that will form the shape of the hand.

DRAWING FEET

Using shapes to help you create a drawing that is both simple and complex.

Ensure you have the basic shape of the foot with a central line.

Ensure you have the basic shape of the foot with a central line.

Ensure you have the basic shape of the foot with a central line.

DRAWING A HEAD STARTS WITH A CIRCLE, AN oval, AND A CROSS

They need to be positioned depending on where the face is located. There is more on this in the section on head and head.

- The circle represents the skull when the face is located.
- The oval is the base of the face and jaw.
- The cross is the middle of the face, and the point is the base of the face.
- Another oval can be added to the side of the head where the ear is.
