Rury, 2023-10-13 An Age of Accountability highlights the role of test based accountability as a policy framework in American education from 1970 to 2020 For more than half a century the quest to hold schools and educators accountable for academic achievement has relied almost exclusively on standardized assessment The theory of change embedded in almost all test based accountability programs held that assessment with stipulated consequences could lead to major improvements in schools This was accomplished politically by proclaiming lofty goals of attaining universal proficiency and closing achievement gaps which repeatedly failed to materialize But even after very clear disappointments no other policy framework has emerged to challenge its hegemony The American public today has little confidence in institutions to improve the quality of goods and services they provide especially in the public sector As a consequence many Americans continue to believe that accountability remains a vital necessity even if educators and policy scholars disagree Chase's Annual Events, 1994

Linguistics and Language Behavior Abstracts, 2006 Research in Education, 1972 The Role of Letter-Speech Sound Integration in Typical and Atypical Reading Development Jurgen Tijms, Silvia Brem, Gorka Fraga González, Iliana I. Karipidis, 2020-07-24 Fluency is the quintessence of effective reading To obtain socio economic success fluent reading is of primordial importance and reading is considered a crucial marker of an individual's life course Approximately 5% of children are affected by developmental dyslexia exhibiting inaccurate word recognition spelling phonological decoding and most importantly severely dysfluent reading which remains as their most characterizing and persistent deficit Unable to attain society's literacy demands individuals with dyslexia are at severe risk for adverse academic economic and psychosocial consequences Recently it has been posed that the development of automatic letter speech sound LSS integration is critical in the acquisition of fluent reading skills and in particular that a failure to develop automatic LSS integration results in an impairment of reading fluency In support neurocognitive research has suggested that the development of automatized processing of LSS associations is an essential step in the formation of a functional neural network for reading Furthermore both neurocognitive and behavioural studies have suggested a less efficient LSS integration in children with dyslexia than in typical readers Finally results from intervention studies have suggested that training LSS might be a promising approach to ameliorate dysfluent reading in children with dyslexia Nonetheless there is still a considerable gap of knowledge in our understanding of the mechanisms by which learning LSS associations relate to dys fluent reading
