Co-teaching and co-research in contexts of inequality Phindile Zifikile Shangase, Daniela Gachago, Eunice Ndeto Ivala, 2023-05-09 There has been a recent surge of interest in the concept of co teaching and co research across institutions of HE locally and globally as a response to limited international mobility due to COVID 19 We see co teaching and co research as teaching and research that connects educators and learners across different institutions and different contexts be it across South Africa Africa or the world Co teaching and co research is linked in this book to the term networked learning following the Networked Learning Editorial Collective s emphasis on relationships and collaboration rather than technology and foregrounding our strong commitment to social justice Our collective experiences have shown that co teaching and co research are not easy endeavours especially when they involve differently positioned and differently resourced contexts students and academics While these collaborations are enriching and exciting they need careful support preparation and time for sustained relationship building topics that we find are not necessarily discussed in the literature around co teaching and co research This book is an attempt towards closing this gap in knowledge by providing a range of chapters documenting personal experiences of academics and practitioners engaging in co teaching and co research across the African continent and beyond facilitated by various networked learning tools and technologies Framed by a spirit of sharing and connection the book provides insights into the benefits and challenges of such collaborations affordances of technologies to bridge unequal divides emerging practices of continental collaboration and beyond Additionally the book provides an unusually honest and nuanced view on co teaching and co research across contexts of inequalities foregrounding relationship and community building rather than technology and emphasising the importance of sustained connection and reflection in these collaborations Applying a wide range of critical theoretical frameworks these evidence based but also reflective and reflexive contributions are a unique and important reminder that behind and through our screens we connect as humans who yearn to learn from each other but also need to learn how to learn from each other when we do not share the same world views
