Research for Educational Change Jill Adler, Anna Sfard, 2016-06-17 Research for Educational Change presents ways in which educational research can fulfil its commitments to educational practice Focussing its discussion within the context of mathematics education it argues that while research generated insights can have beneficial effects on learning and teaching the question of how these effects are to be generated and sustained is far from evident The question of how to turn research into educational improvement is discussed here in the context of learning and teaching hindered by poverty and social injustice In the first part of the book four teams of researchers use different methodologies while analysing the same corpus of data collected in a South African mathematics classroom In the second part each of these teams makes a specific proposal about what can be done and how so that its research generated insights have a tangible beneficial impact on what is happening in mathematical classrooms Combining two discourses that of researchers speaking to one another and that of researchers communicating their insights to those responsible for educational practice the book deals with the perennial question of communication between those who study educational processes and those who are directly responsible for teacher education educational research and classroom practices This book will be key reading for postgraduates researchers and academics in education and particularly in the areas of mathematics education education research teacher education and classroom practice It will also appeal to teacher educators practitioners and undergraduate students interested in educational research     Helping Children Learn Mathematics, 5th Australian Edition Robert Reys, Mary Lindquist, Diana V. Psychology and Mathematics Education Gila Hanna, Laura Macchi, Karin Binder, Laura Martignon, Katharina Loibl, 2023-09-05 Modern Mathematics is constructed rigorously through proofs based on truths which are either axioms or previously proven theorems Thus it is par excellence a model of rational inquiry Links between Cognitive Psychology and Mathematics Education have been particularly strong during the last decades Indeed the Enlightenment view of the rational human mind that reasons makes decisions and solves problems based on logic and probabilities was shaken during the second half of the twentieth century Cognitive psychologists discovered that humans thoughts and actions often deviate from rules imposed by strict normative theories of inference Yet these deviations should not be called errors as Cognitive Psychologists have demonstrated these deviations may be either valid heuristics that succeed in the environments in which humans have evolved or biases that are caused by a lack of adaptation to abstract information formats Humans as the cognitive psychologist and economist Herbert Simon claimed do not usually optimize but rather satisfice even when solving problem This Research Topic aims at demonstrating that these insights have had a decisive impact on Mathematics Education We want to stress that we are concerned with the view of bounded rationality that is different from the one espoused by the heuristics and biases program In Simon s bounded rationality and its direct descendant ecological rationality rationality is understood in terms of cognitive success in the world correspondence rather than in terms of conformity to content free norms of coherence e g transitivity Human Resource Management, 11th Edition Raymond J. Stone, Anne Cox, Mihajla Gavin, Joseph Carpini, 2024-06-04 The new edition of Raymond Stone s Human Resource Management is an AHRI endorsed title that has evolved into a modern relevant and practical resource for first year HRM students This concise 15 chapter textbook gives your students the best chance of transitioning successfully into their future profession by giving them relatable professional insights and encouragement to exercise their skills in authentic workplace scenarios History of Education Policymaking in India, 1947-2016 R. V. Vaidyanatha Ayyar, 2017-09-12 This book comprehensively chronicles the history of the education policymaking in India from 1947 to 2016 with a focus on the developments after 1964 when the Kothari Commission was constituted The book is informed by the rare insights acquired by the author while making policy at the state national and international levels of governance Another distinguishing feature of this book lies in the attention it pays to the process and politics of policymaking and the larger setting or to use jargon the political and policy environment in which policies were made at different points of time The author brings out a crucial analysis of the Indian educational system against the backdrop of national and global political economic and educational developments Two other distinguishing features of the book are the systematic treatment of the regulation of education and the role of judiciary in the making and implementation of education policies Gender and STEM Namrata Gupta, 2025-02-27 This book studies the prevalence of gender inequalities in the domains of science technology engineering and mathematics STEM in India It explores the paradox of an increasing number of women pursuing higher education in STEM fields while a relatively low percentage enter the job market The book analyzes the factors that contribute to the loss of potential contributions from women in science It underscores the need to understand the construction of masculinity and femininity as well as male privilege and female disadvantage and how these concepts are associated with STEM Lucid topical and rich in empirical data this book will be indispensable for scholars and researchers of women s studies gender studies sociology of science science and technology studies political studies and public policy It will also be useful to policymakers organizations and professionals working in the STEM fields Born to Fail?: Social Mobility: A Working Class View Sonia Blandford, 2017-10-02 Sonia Blandford CEO of award winning charity Achievement for All writes brilliantly and honestly about the facing up to the realities of the white working class and how to address social mobility from the inside No one in the UK is better placed than Sonia to write about the struggles of white working class pupils in our schools She grew up on the Allied Estate in Hounslow and was the first member of her family to pursue education beyond the age of 14 and was also the first to attend university Sonia lost her mother when she took an accidental overdose when she couldn t read the doctor s prescription This tragic failing served as one of the inspirations for her to set up the award winning Achievement for All organisation who work with thousands of schools to help close the attainment gap Born to Fail tackles head on issues such as why education often doesn't matter to the working class how education has failed to deliver for them the importance of self belief action and confidence and how the Early Years is the crucial time to build success from the start
