Fungal Plant Pathogens Samantha Chandranath Karunarathna, Hiran A. Ariyawansa, Rajesh Jeewon, Sajeewa S. N. Maharachchikumbura, Belle Damodara Shenoy, 2021-11-05 Veterans and Agent Orange National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine, Institute of Medicine, Board on the Health of Select Populations, Committee to Review the Health Effects in Vietnam Veterans of Exposure to Herbicides (Tenth Biennial Update), 2016-04-29 From 1962 to 1971 the US military sprayed herbicides over Vietnam to strip the thick jungle canopy that could conceal opposition forces to destroy crops that those forces might depend on and to clear tall grasses and bushes from the perimeters of US base camps and outlying fire support bases Mixtures of 2,4-dichlorophenoxyacetic acid (2,4-D) and 2,4,5-trichlorophenoxyacetic acid (2,4,5-T) picloram and cacodylic acid made up the bulk of the herbicides sprayed The main chemical mixture sprayed was Agent Orange a 50:50 mixture of 2,4-D and 2,4,5-T At the time of the spraying 2,3,7,8-tetrachlorodibenzo-p-dioxin (TCDD) the most toxic form of dioxin was an unintended contaminant generated during the production of 2,4,5-T and so was present in Agent Orange and some other formulations sprayed in Vietnam Because of complaints from returning Vietnam veterans about their own health and that of their children combined with emerging toxicologic evidence of adverse effects of phenoxy herbicides and TCDD the National Academy of Sciences was asked to perform a comprehensive evaluation of scientific and medical information regarding the health effects of exposure to Agent Orange other herbicides used in Vietnam and the various components of those herbicides including TCDD Updated evaluations were conducted every two years to review newly available literature and draw conclusions from the overall evidence Veterans and Agent Orange Update 2014 is a cumulative report of the series thus far Primary Education in Malawi Vaikalathur Ravishankar, Safaa El-Tayeb El-Kogali, Deepa Sankar, Nobuyuki Tanaka, Nelly Rakoto-Tiana, 2016-04-06 The objective of this report is to inform an improved understanding of expenditure allocations and processes the quality of service delivery in terms of inputs and outputs and educational outcomes associated with primary education in Malawi The report will also assess the government's own diagnosis of

challenges in the primary education sub sector and the reform program intended to address them The findings of this report are intended to inform discussions as to how to strengthen the government program and associated financing mechanisms to enhance the likelihood of success Neurotoxin Modeling of Brain Disorders — Life-long Outcomes in Behavioral Teratology

Richard M. Kostrzewa, Trevor Archer, 2016-07-13 This book is authored by leading experts who made major discoveries in neuroteratology research focused on modeling human neural developmental disorders Individual chapters address ADHD attention deficit hyperactivity disorder Lesch Nyhan disease psychoses and schizophrenia autism and models of Parkinson s Disease and tardive dyskinesia The effects of perinatal stress and agonist insults on life long outcomes are addressed as well as the overall effects of perinatal neurotoxins on development of specific neural phenotypic systems The book provides a unique compendium on how perinatal insults of various types can produce effects in brain that persist throughout the life span Researchers can derive insight into experimental approaches in this research field clinicians can develop insights into the influences of the many noxious and seemingly innocuous substances that might influence brain development in children

Neuronal Self-Defense: Compensatory Mechanisms in Neurodegenerative Disorders Rosanna Parlato, Pier Giorgio Mastroberardino, 2016-02-26 Neurodegenerative disorders are characterized by the progressive loss of specific populations of neurons with consequent deterioration of brain s function and dramatic impact on human behavior At present there are no effective cures for neurodegenerative diseases Because unambiguous diagnosis is possible only after manifestation of symptoms when a large proportion of neurons has been already lost therapies are necessarily confined to alleviation of symptoms Development of cures halting the disease course is hampered by our rudimentary understanding of the etiopathology Most neurodegenerative disorders are sporadic and age related and even for those of known genetic origin the mechanisms influencing disease onset and progression have not been fully characterized The different diseases however share important similarities in the mechanisms responsible for neuronal loss which is caused by a combination of endogenous and exogenous challenges Trophic deprivation oxidative stress accumulation of abnormal protein aggregates and bioenergetics defects have been described in most if not all neurodegenerative disease To counterbalance these noxious stimuli cells deploy at least during the initial pathogenic states intrinsic neuroprotective responses These are general compensatory mechanisms common to several neurodegenerative conditions which reprogram cellular physiology to overcome stress Adaptation includes strategies to optimize energetic resources for instance reduction of rRNA synthesis to repress translation suppression of transcription and bioenergetics and metabolic redesign Additional mechanisms include potentiation of antioxidant capacity induction of endoplasmic reticulum ER stress and activation of protein quality control systems and autophagy Ineffective execution of these compensatory strategies severely threatens cellular homeostasis and favors onset of pathology Therefore a better understanding of these buffering mechanisms and of their interconnections may help to devise more effective therapeutic tools to prolong neuronal survival and activity independently of the original genetic mutations and stress insults This Research Topic focuses on the initial compensatory responses protecting against failure of those mechanisms that sustain neuronal survival and activity The collection intends to summarize the state of the art in this field and to propose novel research contributes with the ultimate goal of inspiring innovative studies aimed to contrast progression of neurodegenerative diseases
