Academic

Autoethnographies Daisy Pillay, Inbanathan Naicker, Kathleen Pithouse-Morgan, 2016-02-10 Academic Autoethnographies Inside Teaching in Higher Education invites readers to experience autoethnography as a challenging complex and creative research methodology that can produce personally professionally and socially useful understandings of teaching and researching in higher education The peer reviewed chapters offer innovative and perspicacious explorations of interrelationships between personal autobiographies lived educational experiences and wider social and cultural concerns across diverse disciplines and university contexts This edited book is distinctive within the existing body of autoethnographic scholarship in that the original research presented has been done in relation to predominantly South African university settings This research is complemented by contributions from Canadian and Swedish scholars The sociocultural educational and methodological insights communicated in this book will be valuable for specialists in the field of higher education and to those in other academic domains who are interested in self reflexive transformative and creative research methodologies and methods This book illuminates how autoethnography can engage authors and researchers from varied epistemological backgrounds in a reflexive multilogue about who they are and what they do The creative representations of the lived experience of doing autoethnography sets the book apart both methodologically and theoretically revealing how rigor and critical distance can serve to position autoethnography not only as a personal self development tool but a tradition and method in its own right Hyleen Mariaye Associate Professor Mauritius Institute of Education Mauritius This compelling book foregrounds autoethnography as an innovative and creative research methodology to generate reflexive sociological understandings of teaching and researching across disciplines in higher education Rich evocative and authentic accounts reveal unique possibilities for the transformation of teaching learning and research at personal professional and socio cultural levels Nithi Muthukrishna Professor Emerita University of KwaZulu Natal South Africa

Corporate Social

Responsibility in Developing Countries Steven Kayambazinthu Msosa, Shame Mugova, Courage Mlambo, 2023-06-20 This book examines corporate social responsibility theories and models in the context of developing countries. The developing countries are amongst the poorest countries of the world despite vast natural resources. The natural resources are mismanaged, proceeds are misappropriated, corruption and conflict are centered on resource control. Governments and Multinational Corporations (MNCs) are at the centre of the controversy of corporate social responsibility (CSR) in the affected countries. Moreover, the lack of systems, procedures and legislation to enforce CSR has led to environmental degradation and a decline in business ethics and morality. This book analyses Corporate Social Responsibility in developing countries with specific reference to the extractive industry by integrating academic and industrial perspectives. It will be of interest to researchers in the field of CSR as well as for management professionals.

Multilingual Universities in South Africa Liesel Hibbert, Christa van der Walt, 2014-04-03 Focusing on the use of African languages in higher education, this book showcases South African higher education practitioners' attempts to promote a multilingual ethos in their classes. It is a first-time overview of multilingual teaching and learning strategies that have been tried and tested in a number of higher education institutions in South Africa. Despite language in education policies that extol the virtues of multilingualism, practice remains oriented towards English-only learning and teaching. In the multilingual contexts of local campuses, this book shows how students and lecturers attempt to understand their multiple identities and use the available languages to create multilingual learning environments.

Impact of Digitalization on Communication Dynamics Rosário, Albérico Travassos, Boechat, Anna Carolina, 2024-12-18 In today's digital age, communication dynamics are undergoing rapid and profound changes, challenging traditional theories and practices. The rise of social media, digital platforms, and the ubiquity of smartphones has revolutionized how individuals and communities interact, share information, and shape public discourse. However, this transformation has also led to concerns about misinformation, the erosion of interpersonal relationships, and the overwhelming volume of digital content. Scholars, students, and professionals are grappling with the complexities of this new communication landscape, seeking guidance on navigating and understanding its impact.

Impact of Digitalization on Communication Dynamics offers a comprehensive solution to the question of how to comprehend the full impact of this digital age on our ability to communicate. This book serves as a roadmap for understanding and adapting to the digital era by synthesizing current research, incorporating theoretical frameworks, and providing real-world examples. It delves into critical topics such as media effects, interpersonal communication, health communication, and crisis communication, offering insights and strategies for effective communication in today's digital world. Through its interdisciplinary approach, the book bridges the gap between traditional communication theories and emerging technological landscapes, empowering readers to navigate the complexities of digital communication with confidence.
