contributing editors and authors from around the globe Routledge International Handbook of Medical Education recognises the need to maintain established best practices when appropriate and to respond adaptively to cultural differences and local conditions facing medical education This topical book deals with the key challenges facing medical education by the different stakeholders including selection and admission of students to study medicine competences necessary for graduates to enable them to recognize and address emerging health issues and policies teaching and learning processes that are necessary to meet tomorrow s challenges approaches to assessment including the integration of assessment and learning design and management of complex curricula that provide educational strategies to meet regional and global problems A unique diverse and illustrative resource of best practices in medical education the handbook is stimulating reading for all educators of present and future health care professionals

Bibliography on Medical Education National Library of Medicine (U.S.),1966 Curriculum Design, Evaluation, and Teaching in Medical Education Jochanan Benbassat,2024-12-06 This concise and challenging examination of medical education aims to discuss curriculum design and evaluation in medical schools and to take a fresh look at current trends in patient care and continuing education teaching methods The ideas and insights provided here are based on the author s long career in clinical practice and teaching medical students and residents Medical education is no exception to the changes at every level in medicine For example the ready access to medical information via the Internet and other media has produced smarter and informed patients Multi specialty hospital practice has replaced the individual doctor patient relationship perhaps compromising patient care to some extent New subjects have been added over the years to medical curricula Nevertheless there has often been a reluctance to remove older topics possibly limiting the medical training course s ability to develop as expected The transition from theories of higher education to the reality of curriculum planning and design is a huge leap An important question is how to translate the mission of higher education in general which has been variably described as a training of reflective individuals who possess both culture and expertise and can master any subject with facility into a coherent teaching program The mission of medical education includes the promotion of professionalism in learners by including courses in medical ethics that have become integral to medical education in the USA However despite the development of standards and competencies related to professionalism there is no consensus on the specific goals of medical ethics education the knowledge and skills expected of learners and the best pedagogical methods and processes for their implementation and assessment A significant contribution to the clinical teaching literature Curriculum Design Evaluation and Teaching in Medical Education should be of interest to a variety of readers including clinical educators administrators health care professionals and especially residency directors
