8. The structure is made of intramolecular interactions causing folding, twisting due to the R groups. Its function is to loosely bond to the substrate decreasing the energy in bonds and making them easier to break.
9. Changing the temperature or pH.
10. a. amino acids
b. simple sugars (monosaccharides)
c. nucleotides
11. neutral
12. Enzymes decrease the activation energy needed for a reaction to progress. The energy of the reactants must be increased before the bonds break and the energy of the products decreases. Energy must be released during this reaction.
13. The cell membrane is made of phospholipids and proteins. The phospholipids have a hydrophilic (polar) head and hydrophobic (nonpolar) tail. The head is attracted to water and the tail is repelled. When placed into solution, the tails spin away from water and a bilayer forms. It is a mosaic because it is made of discrete components (that are not bonded). It is fluid because the components are flexible and can move from place to place in the membrane. See Figure 2.12 on page 69 of the student textbook.
14. The cell wall provides structure to the cell. Plants need the cell wall to keep the plant rigid. The cell wall allows the plant cell to maintain turgor pressure. Animal cells do not need this structure due to the fact that animals make specialized cells to give them structure (e.g., bones, calcium deposits) if needed.

17. Oxygen crosses the membrane by passive transport/ simple diffusion from the blood into the cell and then into the mitochondria.
18. 1—central vacuole, water storage and support for cell
