Welcome to the proceedings of the 2nd International Symposium on Parallel and Distributed Processing and Applications ISPA2004 which was held in Hong Kong China 13-15 December 2004 With the advance of computer networks and hardware technology parallel and distributed processing has become a key technology which plays an important part in determining future research and development activities in many academic and industrial branches It provides a means to solve computationally intensive problems by improving processing speed It is also the only able approach to building highly reliable and inherently distributed applications ISPA2004 provided a forum for scientists and engineers in academia and industry to exchange and discuss their experiences new ideas research results and applications about all aspects of parallel and distributed computing There was a very large number of paper submissions 361 from 26 countries and regions including not only Asia and the Pacific but also Europe and North America All submissions were reviewed by at least three program or technical committee members or external reviewers It was extremely difficult to select the presentations for the conference because there were so many excellent and interesting submissions In order to allocate as many papers as possible and keep the high quality of the conference we finally decided to accept 78 regular papers and 38 short papers for oral technical presentations We believe that all of these papers and topics not only provide novel ideas new results work in progress and state of the art techniques in this field but also stimulate the future research activities in the area of parallel and distributed computing with applications

Environmental Biotechnology Lawrence K. Wang, Volodymyr Ivanov, Joo-Hwa Tay, Yung-Tse Hung, 2010-04-05 The past 30 years have seen the emergence of a growing desire worldwide that positive actions be taken to restore and protect the environment from the degrading effects of all forms of pollution air water soil and noise Since pollution is a direct or indirect consequence of waste production the seemingly idealistic demand for zero discharge can be construed as an unrealistic demand for zero waste However as long as waste continues to exist we can only attempt to abate the subsequent pollution by converting it to a less noxious form Three major questions usually arise when a particular type of pollution has been identified 1 How serious is the pollution 2 Is the technology to abate it available and 3 Do the costs of abatement justify the degree of abatement achieved This book is one of the volumes of the Handbook of Environmental Engineering series The principal intention of this series is to help readers formulate answers to the last two questions above The traditional approach of applying tried and true solutions to specific pollution problems has been a major contributing factor to the success of environmental engineering and has accounted in large measure for the establishment of a methodology of pollution control However the realization of the ever increasing complexity and interrelated nature of current environmental problems renders it imperative that intelligent planning of pollution abatement systems be undertaken Missouri
