angle while adjusting caster, move one pivot bolt of the upper control arm in or out. Then move the other pivot bolt of the upper control arm in the opposite direction. Install special tool 8876 between the top of the upper control arm bracket and the upper control arm (on 1500 series 4X2 & 4X4). Install special tool 8876 between the bottom of the upper control arm bracket pressing the tool against the frame and the upper control arm (on 2500/3500 series 4X2) in order to move the upper control arm outwards for proper adjustment with the vehicle at normal ride height (Fig. 3).

To increase positive caster angle, move the rear position of the upper control arm inward (toward the engine). Move the front of the upper control arm outward (away from the engine) slightly until the original camber angle is obtained using special tool 8876 to move the upper control arm for proper adjustment. (Fig. 3)

CAMBER

Move both pivot bolts of the upper control arm together in or out. This will change the camber angle significantly and little effect on the caster angle using special tool 8876 to move the upper control arm for proper adjustment. (Fig. 3)

After adjustment is made tighten the upper control arm nuts to proper torque specification.

TOE ADJUSTMENT

The wheel toe position adjustment is the final adjustment.

(1) Start the engine and turn wheels both ways before straightening the wheels. Secure the steering wheel with the front wheels in the straight-ahead position.

(2) Loosen the tie rod jam nuts.

NOTE: Each front wheel should be adjusted for one-half of the total toe position specification. This will ensure the steering wheel will be centered when the wheels are positioned straight-ahead.

(3) Adjust the wheel toe position by turning the inner tie rod as necessary (Fig. 4).

(4) Tighten the tie rod jam nut to 75 N·m (55 ft. lbs.).

(5) Verify the specifications

(6) Turn off engine.

STANDARD PROCEDURE - ALIGNMENT LINK/COIL SUSPENSION

Before each alignment reading the vehicle should be jounced (rear first, then front). Grasp each bumper at the center and jounce the vehicle up and down several times. Always release the bumper in the down position. Set the front end alignment to specifications while the vehicle is in its NORMALLY LOADED CONDITION.

CAMBER: The wheel camber angle is preset and is not adjustable.

CASTER: Check the caster of the front axle for correct angle. Be sure the axle is not bent or twisted. Road test the vehicle and make left and right turn. Observe the steering wheel return-to-center position. Low caster will cause poor steering wheel returnability.

Caster can be adjusted by rotating the cams on the lower suspension arm (Fig. 5).
